News of Killing

EL PASO, Texas, July 20.—Details of the slaying of Pancho Villa and four members of his party were obtained today from Chihuahua
City. Villa, Colonel Miguel Trillo and two other of his followers were in an automobile going from Villa's ranch to Parral when they were attacked by twenty mounted men. All of the party were slain. Chihuahua police said they have not yet determined who the slayers are.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
MEXICO CITY, July 20.— Pancho Villa is reported to have been assassinated.

The erstwhile hero of Revolutionary Mexico, the bandit and rebel chief, who defied the American government and led the famous raid upon Columbus, N. M., is reported to have been shot down by his own men near Parral.

Villa has lived the quiet life of a farmer during recent years and his name has not figured in Mexico's political affairs.

Colonel Miguel Torillo, chief of Villa's staff and the former revolutionary leader's secretary, is also reported to have been shot and killed.

News Causes Sensation.
News of the reported slaying of Villa, created a tremendous sensation. The latest details received stated that the shooting took place
early this morning.

Villa and his secretary, Colonel Torillo, were said to have been enroute to Parral from Villa's ranch.
They were accompanied by Villa's usual escort.

Members of the escorting party
suddenly turned and began firing upon their chief. Villa fell, shot through the body with several bullets. Such an end would be in contrast to the life of the famous leader before his surrender and agreement with the existing Mexican government to lay down his arms.

Led Columbus Raid.
It was in March, 1916, that Villa staged the Columbus raid, the result of which threatened to plunge America into intervention. During this period Villa, a poor peon,
made himself one of the most powerful and most feared men in his country.

It was Villa and his bloody depredations that drew General Pershing into the deserts of Chihuahua in 1914 in a fruitless pursuit.

Villa met his Waterloo in 1915 at the hands of General Obregon, now president of Mexico, in a bloody battle in which Villa's formidable army of 100,000 men was routed.

Supports Candidate.
Francisco, commonly known as Pancho Villa, throughout Mexico,
was still regarded as one of the big men of the republic, despite his apparent retirement and was expected to take a prominent part in the next presidential campaign.

Booms Brother Of Bryan For President

LINCOLN, Nebr., July 20.—

was boomed for president today
by Congressman Edgar Howard, Nebraska, in the Columbus Telegram, of which he is editor.

Howard comes out unequivocally for Governor Bryan

ing him anything less will

BRITISH IN NEW PARLEY OVER NOTE

Cabinet Fails to Agree on Terms of Reparations Proposal to Germany, Allies.

LONDON, July 20.—The British cabinet seems unable to agree on the terms of the reparations note that is to be sent to Germany and further consideration was under way
today, while the allies and the late enemy waited.

Discussion of the draft of the note and its covering letter, which was to have been sent to France, Belgium, Italy
and the United States last night, was resumed at Downing Street.

It is expected that the documents will be ready to be handed to representatives of the allies here tonight.

HARDING NEARS END OF STAY IN ALASKA

WITH PRESIDENT HARDING
EN ROUTE TO CORDOVA, Alaska,
July 20.—One month from the date
he set out from Washington, President Harding today was making his last stop but one in Alaska.

and this had very nearly completed the study of the northland,
which actuated the trip.

Leaving Valdez last night, the transport Henderson stopped at Cordova today where the Copper river section will be visited and then the transport will proceed to Sikra for the last stop before Vancouver.

It is one of the most strenuous trips any chief executive ever attempted, for in spite of considerable periods of inactivity on the boat, most of the time has been filled up with stops, conferences,
eight-seeing tours and similar activities.

The party faces another month
of equally strenuous activities in the trip down the Pacific coast
during which several important speeches will be delivered and then the tour will be concluded through the canal, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands before the return to Washington is made via New York.

Mr. Harding probably will sum up the whole trip in a speech in New York August 28. The president drove forty-five miles out on a mountain trail during his Valdez stop and viewed the glaciers.

Marks Crash to New Low Level In London

LONDON, July 20.—German marks were offered at 2,000,000 to the pound sterling just before the exchange closed today. There were no sales at the figure, however, actual transactions closing at between 1,700,000 and 1,900,000.

At these figures the mark was around 400,000 to the dollar.

GRAND JURY INDICTS DRY CHIEF

FLYER PLANS THIRD RACE WITH SUN

Dawn-to-Dark Aviator Confident of Success in Next Trip

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, July 20.—Although army air service headquarters announcement this morning that Major General Patrick, chief of the air service, had officially called off the dawn-to-dark flight attempt of Lieutenant Maughan for the rest of this year, it was indicated later the gallant flyer might be given another try.

Secretary of War Weeks stated that he saw no objection to Maughan having another try and that he would confer with General Patrick on this point.

CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS IN THIRD ATTEMPT.
ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., July 20.—
"I'll have a third try and make it if they'll let me."

Lieutenant Russell L. Maughan, army flyer, whose second gallant trip at spanning the American continent between dawn and darkness
ended in heart-breaking failure
here late yesterday when the airman was within a few hours of his goal, awaited orders from Washington today.

Grimly surveying the little plane
which had sprung a mechanical defect that alone prevented his triumph, Lieutenant Maughan declared emphatically he wanted to try the flight again. It was his duty, he said.

Meanwhile, he wants also to be permitted to start again for the coast at the hour at which he landed, 5:08 p. m. Mountain time, and prove it is possible, for a plane
to be flown from New York to San Francisco between the hours of dawn and dark.

Bulging Hip May Not Be Caused by Hootch

CINCINNATI, July 20.—If you see a man with a bulging hip pocket, be careful how you come to certain conclusions about it. It may be his Bible. An official of the Salvation Army says there are more people today interested in Bible than ever before. The book, according to this person, is very generally carried and very often by people where the Bible would be looked for last.

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—A big grass fire, completely out of control, this afternoon, was sweeping
the hills in the region of the Hollywood Country club. Fifteen miles of wooded country in the hills,
containing many country homes
and summer cottages, is threatened,
according to reports made by the fire fighters, under command of Captain Thomas H. Lane. Traffic has been suspended on roads in the district. Additional fire companies have been called out.

Hold Rail Rate Decision May Bring Big Advance

WASHINGTON, July 20.—A general increase in freight rates on western railroads is considered probable if the interstate commerce commission refuses to reverse its recent decision in the western lumber rate case.

In a petition filed with the commission by western carriers seeking re-argument of the case, the roads contend that the decision which sets new maximum rates and awards shippers' refunds on the difference between rates paid in the last five years and the new rates, establishes a dangerous precedent.

If permitted to stand, their petition declares, the door is opened to all classes of shippers to bring long established rates in dispute and if successful in getting them reduced, to obtain gigantic refunds from the railroad companies on the basis of the lumber rate decision.

Such an assault on their revenues would deplete their finances and require a general advancement of rates, the railroads declared.

FARMER CONDUCTS OWN DEFENSE AND WINS $20,000 SUIT

"I couldn't afford a lawyer. So I thought I'd just come into court and tell how it all happened."

This statement, made by J. W. Davis, La Habra rancher, stood today as a successful formula for a legal defense. At least, it proved sufficient to enable Davis, who was defendant in a $20,000 damage suit, to win his own case, although pitted against two authorized attorneys.

Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, here, late yesterday, rendered a decision in favor of Davis, after trial of the action brought by Mrs.
Bertie Bell Emery, who sought damages in connection with the death of her 16-year-old son, following a collision between the boy's motorcycle and Davis's automobile, at an intersection a mile west of La Habra, June 10, 1922.

Cross-Examines Witnesses
While the plaintiff's case was being presented, Davis cross-examined the witnesses and emphasized what he considered to be
"weak spots" in their evidence.

There were no eye-witnesses brought by the plaintiff, the chief supporting testimony centering around a map of the intersection, showing the location of alleged skid marks. This was intended to show that Davis's car had been traveling rapidly at the time of the collision, and also that he had
"cut the corner."

The farmer-lawyer, however, had several "cards up his sleeve" when his turn came. He placed on the stand three witnesses who testified they were riding with him at the time of the accident.

These declared the boy on the motorcycle had been riding at an extremely high rate of speed as he came into the long curve on one side of the intersection. Davis approached from the opposite direction, it was testified. The witnesses swore that the youth gave a signal indicating his intention to turn another way, which would have brought him across the path of Davis's car.

Court Upholds Farmer.
Then, the rider, they said, appeared to change his mind and his course, probably influenced, they said, by the approach of a third vehicle. This caused Davis, it was testified, to slow his car, until it had nearly stopped when the crash came. The momentum of the motorcycle, the witnesses declared, swung the heavy touring car
to one side.

The point was raised that Davis,
in making a left turn on the long curve, should have proceeded to the exact center of the intersection
before making the turn. It was testified there are no traffic buttons at the intersection, which is called one of the "two button" type.

The court, however, held that,
since the long curve was constructed to facilitate heavy traffic along that thoroughfare and was customarily used by traffic going in both directions, it was not necessary for Davis, in making the turn,
to continue beyond the exact center of the intersection. In fact,
the court held, such a practice at a busy intersection, would tend to confuse traffic.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE MAN ACCUSED

Misappropriation of Organization Funds Charged
by Jurors

(By United Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, July 20.—William H. Anderson, superintendent of the New York state anti-saloon league,
was indicted today by a grand jury
on three counts, two of grand larceny and one of forgery.

Anderson, who was in court with former Governor Charles Whitman,
his attorney, pleaded not guilty.

The state superintendent, whose case has aroused tremendous controversy in New York state, was held in $5,000 bail. He was given a week in which to demur.

The indictments arose out of charges made by a former employe of the anti-saloon league, charging misappropriation of league funds.

O. Birdsell Phillips, the former employe, charged that Anderson had failed to account for certain monies, amounting to nearly $25-000 entrusted to his care.

The state superintendent made a bitter counter attack on District Attorney Banton, who prosecuted charges and issued numerous statements attempting to discredit the district attorney.

Anderson, who has been state superintendent of the league for many years, claimed a conspiracy to ruin him was responsible for the charges.

Many ministers and others testified in his behalf. District Attorney Banton stated throughout that the superintendent had refused a satisfactory accounting of the allegedly missing funds.

Invited to waive immunity and appear before the grand jury, Anderson refused.

GERMANS ASKED TO PRODUCE SPY DATA

WASHINGTON, July 19.—A demand that the German government produce its official records, showing the activities of its spies in the United States during the war, is made in a brief filed today on behalf of the Kentucky Public Elevator company.

The elevator company is claiming damages of one million dollars
for the destruction by incendiaries of a wooden elevator with a capacity of five hundred thousand bushels of grain. It is charged that the elevator was destroyed as a part of the activities of the spies of the German government.

The case is unique in that it is the first time that such a demand has been made upon the German government. The brief, which was filed by the attorneys, Lewis A.
McGowan and C. C. Calhoun, sets forth that this demand is justified
by article 23 of the treaty of Versailles, which provides that: "The German government undertakes to furnish all documents and information of every kind, the production of which may be considered necessary to insure the full knowledge of the incriminating acts; the just depreciation of responsibility."

Plan to Break Jap Radio Grip in China

PEKIN, July 20.—R. P.
Schwerin of the Federal Telephone company, California, has concluded arrangements to build a large radio station at Shanghai to receive messages from the United States, it was learned today.

This step is being taken in an effort to break the Japanese radio monopoly in China and furnish unham-pered communication from the United States.

TWO FLYERS ARE KILLED IN TRAINING

Plane Goes Into Tail Spin While Several Thousand Feet High; Inquiry Begins.

RANTOUL, Ill., July 20.—
Lieutenant Edward Kinney and Lieutenant Harold McNab were killed at Rantoul flying field today in an airplane fall.

Their plane was several thousand feet high when it suddenly went into a tail spin
and crashed to earth.

The wreckage failed to disclose the cause of the accident and a board of inquiry
has started an investigation.

Both McNab and Kinney were Illinois men, attending the officers' reserve training corps camp. They were war veterans.

JAIL WIDOW AS KIDNAPER IN ESTATE ROW

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, July 20.—Mrs.
R. C. Rath, 23, a three times widow, of Memphis, Tenn., was arrested today on a charge of kidnap-ing and fraudulent breach of trust preferred by Memphis authorities.

Mrs. Rath first married a man named Trecher, then a man named Mitchell, both of whom died. Two months ago she married Rath, who was divorced and had custody of a 14-year-old son, Robert.

Six weeks ago Rath was burned to death in a gasoline explosion in Memphis. Mrs. Rath came to Los Angeles with her mother.

Rath's former wife, following his death, obtained a court order setting aside the previous order giving Rath custody of their son and awarding the son to her.

Robert, Mrs. Rath, II, says, doesn't like his own mother and two weeks ago drew out his savings account and came to Los Angeles
to live with his stepmother.

"This is all a frame up on the part of my husband's first wife to get control of his fortune through obtaining custody of the boy," said Mrs. Rath. II at the county jail, where she is held. "The fraudulent breach of trust charges concern a diamond ring given me by my husband before his death, which his first wife now claims to be part of the estate."

Robert, who came to the jail to console his foster mother, said he didn't like his real mother and would never return to her."

FLASHINGS AT NIGHT PUZZLE

Authorities Open Warfare
on Liquor Smugglers
Using Newport Harbor

HIGH-POWERED SPEED BOATS BEING SOUGHT

Runners Employ Elusive
and Latest Model Craft, Claim

A "phantom" ship, anchored miles out in the Pacific; the theft of a $3,000 motorboat from Balboa Island; mysterious flashings and signalings of lights on motorboats along the coastline, answered by the "phantom" ship; exciting chases by harbor officials without results; all these things led to an open declaration of war upon alleged rum runners in Newport harbor,
it was learned here today.

Government cutters, county officials, harbor officers, and local police of Newport Beach are all working toward the end of capturing some of these elusive "mysteries," it was declared.

A month ago, a ship, apparently a three-masted schooner, lay to about twenty-five miles out in the Pacific.

Almost immediately afterward, Harbor Master J. A. Beek began to receive telephone calls from residents along the bay, asking him to investigate mysterious signalings
and boats.

Speaking of one particular instance, Harbor Master Beek told of how, one night while riding his motorboat out near the inlet to the bay, he observed a craft coming toward him with its running lights burning properly.

Then the running lights went out. There was no moon by which he could distinguish the craft or its location. Carefully watching the direction from which the running lights were last seen, his patience was rewarded by seeing a gleam of glaring white light break
the blackness.

He watched it. It flashed dots and dashes in some unintelligible code. This continued for a few moments, when the light went out,
and the darkness enveloped the craft.

Presently a light gleamed from the phantom ship out in the water.
It broke in dots and dashes.

By this time, the harbor master decided to run the craft down. He went after him, and the chase was on.

Along the coast he searched for the boat, but in vain. Nonetheless
it had slipped away.

New Signals Noted.
The phantom ship disappeared
shortly afterward, only to reappear again. The signalings started anew. Every night telephone calls would come in.

But, according to Beek, these asserted rum runners use high-powered speed boats, with exhausts muffled down to a silence found only in an expensive automobile.
They slip in and slip out again,
like a bird on the wing, he stated.

the man— and collins' growth

Of course, it may not interest a man to know WHY this shop is giving so much better service with larger stocks to compare and choose from—but

THE FACTS are that we have doubled our floor space since we started here 18 months ago, and now have two entrances, at 304 North Main and 103 East Third. SUITS take up a lot of room, and it is our increasing sales and larger stocks that has forced this expansion.

Maybe you don't care—but that is why buying here is so much more satisfactory.

commented Harbor Master Beek.

Smugglers Elusive

"We have gone down there a number of times," said Sheriff Sam Jernigan, "but we have been able to catch them. We have lain in wait during the night without success."

The runners, if such they be, choose moonless nights in which to ply their trade to best advantage, it is said.

Orange county does not possess equipment with which to get out into the water after them, Sheriff Jernigan said. Newport Beach city officials are in a similar predicament. The only motorboat in official use is the one used by the harbor master, and it is not capable of coping with high powered speed boats which race through the water at fifty miles an hour.

Meanwhile, the phantom ship continues to appear and disappear in the mists and fogs; the mysterious flashings are sent out at various times; twinklings of lights from the shore blink a sleepy answer scarcely discernible to those who are not watching for them; the "Howcome" is still missing, and the police, county and government officials have declared open warfare upon the alleged rum running business in the Orange county harbor and along its coastline.

One of the largest fortunes left by artist was that of Peter Graham, who died in 1921 worth $650,000.

PANCHO VILLA IS VICTIM OF DEATH PLOT

gan his campaign of terror which startled the world. At one time his eight had grown to 35,000, but since 1920 he was supposed to be living a life of peace and quietude on his secluded ranch.

Raided American Town

In 1916, he crossed into New Mexico and raided an American town and the army post at Columbus, N. M., before he re-traced his steps across the border.

In 1920 the daring bandit entered San Pedro, Coahuila, with 900 followers—all that remained then of his once gorgeous bandit gang, and was received with cheers when he announced he intended to quit his terror campaign and seek amnesty from the government.

A few weeks previously he had decided to surrender to federal forces.

Before his surrender, he was granted one year's pay and a small farm for each of his men. This cost the government about $2,000,000 gold.

Villa reached the pinnacle of his power prior to 1916 when he overthrew the federal army and government of General Victoriano Huerta. He placed himself at the head of a well trained and equipped army of 100,000 men and for months controlled three-fourths of the republic of Mexico.

Becomes Outlaw

After reaching the height, his descent was as rapid as his success. Then he became an outlaw, hunted by the armies of two nations, plundering here and there—always hiding. His forces dwindled to a mere band of 300 guerrillas, bent on murdering and raiding in order to throw their native country with the United States and save their own skins.

In this Villa was partly successful. His raid on New Mexico resulted in the United States sending an expedition across the border in charge of General John J. Pershing.

The fiery leader and fighter was born of poor parents in the state of Durango. While he was still a boy, he killed an army captain and was declared an outlaw by the Diaz government.

Smart Luncheon
Is Presented at Inn
For Tomorrow's Bride

Appointments in "coteur de rose" appropriately characterized a charming luncheon at St. Ann's Inn today when Miss Verna Peterson complimented Miss Joella Sharp on her marriage to Thomas Edward Johnson which will be an event of tomorrow, July 21.

Miss Peterson, who arrived just a few days ago from San Francisco to spend her vacation from Y. W. C. A. duties, used masses of sweet peas and tea roses in shell-pink tints to center the attractive luncheon table. Dainty cards in the same color tones, indicated places for ten while nut cups and minor appointments emphasized the color harmony.

Gathered to enjoy her hospitality were the honoree, Miss Joella Sharp, Miss Gratia Sharp, Miss Elizabeth Scranton of Riverside, Miss Helen McKeever of Los Angeles, Miss Doris Robbins, Mrs. Roy Peterson, Mrs. Dana K. Hammond, Mrs. Paul Witmer, (Miss Arville Ball) and Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips.

Miss Peterson will remain in this city as the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson and other friends, until Monday, July 30.

Fidelity Class

Members of the Fidelity class of the First Baptist Sunday school are recalling a most pleasant meeting of Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. L. Purinton on North Broadway, when Mesdames Bowe, Meyer, Hayhurst and Purinton were hostesses.

After a very profitable business meeting with the president, Mrs. Hayhurst presiding, a greatly enjoyed program offered a soprano solo, "My Father Knows," by Mrs. Camp and a reading by Mrs. Sadie Joiner.

Delicious refreshments of ice cream and home-made cake were served to the following members: Mesdames Baldwin, Blanchard, Camp, Beckett, Klingenberg, Earl, Fairbanks, Rinard, Haines, Peterson, Minter, Morris, Wallace, Joiner, W. H. Harrison, Meyer, J. J. Harrison, Wiebe, Robinson, Marchant, Means, Bowe, Hayhurst and Purinton.

Past Matrons

Past matrons of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., will have a most enjoyable gathering at the Masonic temple Tuesday, July 24 when they will meet for a friendly afternoon to be followed by a picnic supper to which their husbands have been accorded an invitation.

Each member will add one surprise dish to the menu while coffee and ice cream will be served by the committee.

U. S. Racing Papers Under Ban In Canada

OTTAWA, Ont., July 20.—American racing forms and newspapers containing information for betting on horse races whether the events be in the United States or the Dominion, will be seized if they are brought into Canada. These orders have been issued to customs officers at all ports.

Some papers, including the Chicago Racing Form, already have been seized to comply with a new law. Racing books must be stamped out in Canada, it is declared, and the government has announced that it will back prosecutions.

For rain water to sink to the level of most wells it takes from 12 to 18 months.

Money to Be Saved

Today's issue of The Register is one of the most interesting from the viewpoint of buying advantages that we have published in a long time.

Many of the stores are reducing stocks in anticipation of inventory and have priced surplus stocks away below their real value to you so that trouble and expense of inventory listing may be avoided.

And there are many other special offerings and useful bits of news among the advertisements today that justify us in saying that The Register is worth at least A THOUSAND TIMES WHAT YOU PAID FOR IT TODAY.

Auto Crashes With

Wagon Four Hurt

Four persons were slightly injured in a collision between an automobile and a light wagon on South Main street, near Delhi, according to reports on file today at the sheriff's office here. W. F.
Carr, El Modena, and two others,
C. Shulte and J. Shulte, were shaken in the collision. Carr was driver of the automobile. Mauro Hernandez, Delhi, who was driving the wagon, claimed to have been thrown to the ground and slightly injured. The collision took place late Wednesday.

Mrs. Isaac Thompson of Long Beach, today reported a collision between her car and a machine said to have been driven by J. P.
Weinschank of Garden Grove, on the Anaheim road, near Long Beach, yesterday. No one was reported injured.

Asks To Be Named

Guardian for Son

Mrs. Eleanor L. Harnois today had filed a petition in the superior court here asking to be appointed guardian over the person and estate of her son, Bruce, 8. The estate is said to be $650, received from an insurance policy.

Louis C. Morris, formerly of El Paso, Tex., and now a resident of Santa Ana, petitioned for appointment as guardian of his son, Louis Jr., 9. The petitioner was said to have already been appointed in Texas, as his son's guardian, but he declared the estate had been transferred to California.

News Briefs

The annual report of the Orange county school department has been forwarded to State Superintendent of Schools Will C. Wood. It was announced today by R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent. Compilation of the report following assembly of the various district representatives consumed two months' time,
Mitchell said.

F. S. Beecher, plant industry department expert of the United States Department of Agriculture, is due in the county tomorrow
to investigate tomato disease experimental plots set by H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor.

Secretaries of Southern California counties farm bureaus were to hold a meeting at the farm bureau office here today. The meeting was to be called to order immediately upon assembly at noon, according to announcement of the program. The fall program, co-operative plans and general problems were up for discussion.

R. Fisher and family, and H. O.
Wolf and family of Oakland, touring Southern California by automobile, were registered at the Ros-smore hotel here today.

H. B. Sullivan, mining engineer, who has been staying at the Ros-smore hotel here, left today for Sinaloa, Mexico.

The city council of Anaheim last night deferred to an adjourned meeting, to be held Tuesday evening, award of contracts for construction of the sewer line to be built from Anaheim to the joint treatment plant, southwest of Santa Ana, by the cities of Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange. According to the city clerk of Anaheim, the awarding of the contracts
was deferred because representatives of the city councils of Orange and Fullerton were absent.

July 19, 1923, a Los Angeles newspaper printed this: "A telephone exchange will soon be instituted at Fullerton. Already 15 subscribers have been secured."

The condition of Mrs. H. T. Jones, who is confined by illness to her home at 519 West Fifth street, is improving, according to reports from her home today.

Santa Ana lodge No. 20, Fraternal Brotherhood, met here last night with about seventy members present. The meeting was in the form of a birthday surprise on the treasurer, Mrs. Helene Galbraith, who has held that office twenty-four years. Mrs. Galbraith was presented with a beautiful ivory toilet set.

Two building permits were issued today for $7,000 in new buildings, making the total for the month 65 permits for $364,821, and for the year 890 permits for $3, 174,053 in new buildings, according to records of W. S. Decker, building inspector.

Hold Movie Actor To

Face Charge of Girl

James S. Davis Alamo, motion picture actor, must go on trial, August 8 at 10 a. m., before a jury in Superior Judge F. M. Jamison's court here, where he is charged with a serious offense involving a 17-year-old Santa Ana girl.

Alamo was arraigned before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams today, and the date for his trial was fixed, the case being transferred into the other department of the court. Alamo was represented in court today by Attorney Clyde Bishop, but the latter gave notice
he would not be counsel in the case when it came to trial.

MERCHANTS WIN

OVER LUMBERMEN

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 20.
—The Merchants yesterday afternoon triumphed the Lumbermen by the score of 14 to 8, in the first league game of a series recently formed by the business men of the oil city.

The merchants under the leadership of Captain R. J. Prescott, piled up an early lead which was too much for the lumbermen to overcome. A rally staged in the seventh inning netted the lumbermen
four runs, but they were still six runs behind. G. S. Wallin is the captain of the lumbermen's team.

Four teams have been entered in the league. They are the merchants, lumbermen, butchers and vegetable men, and realtors. Practically all of the stores in the city
have signed an agreement to close their doors not later than 2 o'clock every Thursday afternoon during the months of July and August.

The last game of the series is to be played August 30 and the winner of the series is to be awarded a pennant.

CAMPAIGN FOR NEW HOSPITAL IS PLANNED

A whirlwind campaign to complete the raising of funds necessary for the erection of the new hospital here will be instituted at once, Dr. C. D. Ball, president of the Santa Ana Valley Hospital association said today.

Dr. Ball recounted a discussion
at a meeting of persons connected with the hospital held at St. Ann's Inn last Wednesday night in which plans for the campaign were launched.

"Of the $250,000 total hospital
fund, $100,000 has been subscribed," he said. "Of the $50,000 guarantee required by the state, $40,- 000 is now on hand.

"Within the next six or eight weeks we expect to bring the guarantee sum up to total so that we can decide on a site and begin the erection of the first unit
at once."

The matter of locating the hospital is again in an indecisive
state with lapsing of the option
of the Grand avenue property,
which option was allowed to run out because of lack of funds.

"Prospects seem bright to me,"
said Dr. Ball, "for the completion of funds and plans within the next few weeks."

ORANGE LEADER RETURNS FROM SCOUT CAMP

(Special to The Register.)

ORANGE, July 20.—The San Diego County Girl Scout camp closed its two weeks of work and pleasure at Del Mar last Monday morning. Nearly 150 girls and leaders enjoyed the bathing and hiking facilities offered by the camp and hope to return next year. Lois Hallmon of Orange has just returned from the camp.

Miss Barbara McMillan, the San Diego county director, was in charge of affairs and it was due chiefly to her efforts that the camp was run off so smoothly.

Miss Constance Vogt ably assisted her and was in charge when Miss McMillan left for a leaders training camp at Big Basin July 14.

Following morning inspection classes were held for the girls in First Aid, Nature Study and Map Making. Two marines from the Marine base in San Diego came twice a week for lessons in semaphore signalling and bugling.

Horseback riding, swimming or hiking made the afternoon hours
fly rapidly until afternoon inspection and colors at 6:00 p. m.

In the evening around the camp fire each group put on some type of stunt and frequently speakers came from San Diego.

Tuesday evening Mayor Bacon
of San Diego spoke to the girls.
W. A. Moody, the community singing director, led the girls one evening. The San Diego County Girl Scout Commissioner, Mrs. Kett-ner, was in camp for two days and spoke to the girls upon the subject of scouting.

The camp proved to be a great mixing ground for girls from all over the southland. Scouts from San Diego, National City, Hemet, Oceanside, La Mesa, La Jolla and one leader from Orange were all working together for two weeks.

PASTOR-MAGICIAN AMUSES REALTORS

With W. B. Martin as chairman, today's program at the weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Board of Realtors was devoted exclusively to entertainment offered by the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church.

Introduced as Professor Ravoli,
the minister gave some clever exhibitions of sleight-of-hand, demonstrations that proved conclusively that the pastor has mastered the art.

The Rev. Mr. Porter also made a brief address, in which he declared that the future of Santa Ana would be largely what real estate dealers might determine it should be.

Tire Theft Hearing

Is Scheduled Today

L. Isa was scheduled to appear here before Justice J. B. Cox, at 2 p. m., today for preliminary hearing of a charge of grand larceny, in connection with the alleged theft of twenty-nine automobile tire casings and the same number of inner tubes, belonging to L. D. Secret, tire dealer of Orange.

Personals

Mrs. J. L. Collins of Garfield and Wellington avenues has as her house guest Mrs. William Fraser of Sausalito, California.

Leaving today for Camp Baldy,
Mrs. Nina Staples of Los Angeles and her niece, Miss Marjory Warner of this city will enjoy a vacation of two weeks or longer. Next week they will be joined by Mr.
and Mrs. E. G. Warner, 1516 Willets street and their daughter and house-guest, Mrs. Kathryn Barnard and small son Billy of New York City who will enjoy the remainder of the outing with them.

Planning a two or three weeks'
stay at Lake Tahoe, Mr. and Mrs.
Ray S. Chandler, 302 South Bush street, left today for a vacation trip during which they will also attend the furniture show in San Francisco.

During a short stay in Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. George Denton of this city are guests at the hotel Ambassador.

Suit to Recover $100 Fails In Court Here

Suit for $100.40, filed by W. W. Crawford and Son, proprietors of the Santa Ana Welding and Springs company, against Edna Waitman, had been dismissed today by Justice J. B. Cox, in whose court here the case came up for trial late yesterday. The plaintiffs failed to appear in court, although their attorney, Alfred Appings, was on hand. Attorney H. G. Ames of Anaheim represented the defendant.

$15,000 HOME FOR SALVATION ARMY IS AIM

Plans for the immediate erection of permanent Salvation Army headquarters on the property now occupied by that organization, south of The Register building on Sycamore street, were made at a meeting held at James's cafe here, at noon today.

According to J. G. Mitchell, chairman of the meeting, a loan arrangement has been made whereby the building, which is to cost $15,000 will be started at once.

A committee will be appointed by Mitchell to provide for raising the quota of $22,500 for the Salvation Army for the coming year. This will be divided with $15,000 for the building; $3,000 for completing payments on the lot, and $4,300 for maintenance of local work.

Mitchell stated that every man who attended the meeting was enthusiastic about the building plan, the advantages of which were pointed out in talks made by two visiting officers of the Los Angeles district of the Salvation Army, Brigadier C. R. Boyd and Ensign Krantz.

Those who were present at this meeting were A. J. Lasby, P. S. Lucas, F. C. Blauer, Nell Beisel, C. C. Collins, George Wells, C. F. Mitchell, O. H. Barr, E. E. Vincent, and Mitchell.

No Information As To Pilot's Fiancee

Inquiry at Fullerton today failed to disclose any information regarding Miss Sarah Stewart, reported fiancee of Jack Gregory who was instantly killed yesterday when the airplane in which he was crossing the Sierras from San Francisco to Reno crashed upon the rocks at Lake Tahoe.

Wedding plans were said to have been made for an early date following the Reno flight.

According to dispatches, Gregory's compass broke as he was crossing the mountains and he wandered off his course seeking some landmark to guide him into Nevada. Driving into a dense fog, the plane suddenly whirled into a nose dive and plunged from an altitude of 1600 feet to be completely smashed on the rocks.

Tide Plays Realtor Mean Trick In Bay

Frank Wyman, Fullerton realtor, it was reported here today, has located a new subdivision in Newport bay. His companion in the venture was Miss Ella Slocum, on vacation from the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce office.

Just like Columbus, Wyman started out yesterday afternoon in his new yacht and his new yachting togs. Miss Slocum had been urged to acquire a maritime costume in order that everything might be shipshape.

The tide just played them a mean trick; the bay receded and left the yacht high and dry on a sand bar.

Miss Slocum was rescued by a passing launch, but Captain Wyman had to remain with his ship. The tide returned at the chilly hour of 2 a. m.

County Legion Posts And Auxiliaries to Stage Beach Frolic

Members of the Legion posts and auxiliaries of the county today were looking forward to the next meeting of Orange County Vulture No. 527, La Societe 40 Hommes and 8 Chevaux, following announcement that the vulture at its meeting at the Legion headquarters at Anaheim Wednesday evening had decided on a big meeting at Huntington Beach next month. The date has not been set.

Members of the posts and auxiliaries will be invited to join in the evening of fun, with dancing one of the scheduled entertainment features. L. W. Blodgett, Huntington Beach, was appointed to develop the plans and details for the next meeting.

Four "goofs" were initiated at the meeting Wednesday evening. Three of them were Dr. H. J. Howard, Charles Nelson and Frank Corey, all of Santa Ana. Fifty members were present.

Vaudeville artists from the Junior Orpheum circuit, Los Angeles, entertained following close of the business meeting.

Non-Support Charge Due for Trial Today

Charged with failure to provide for his minor child, George W. O'Donley was scheduled to appear today for preliminary examination at 2 p. m., today before Justice J. B. Cox Beulah O'Donley of Costa Mesa is complaining witness in the case.

ANOTHER'S WIFE HIT IN QUARREL, CHARGE

Whether there can be sufficient provocation for a man to strike another man's wife, was the question to be decided by City Recorder W. F. Heathman, at a session of his court at 3 p. m. today, when W. E. Patterson, garage employe here, was to answer to a charge of assault and battery upon the person of Mrs. Lewis L. Betts. Betts also has been employed by the garage.

Trouble arose over an automobile at the garage last night between Patterson and Betts, according to the story told Heathman. Patterson was understood to have struck Betts and felled him, whereupon Mrs. Betts rushed to her husband's assistance.

Patterson, according to the complaint sworn to by Mrs. Betts, struck her.

Man Must Stand Bad Check Trial In S. A.

Charged with floating a bad check, R. R. Garrison, alias R. A. Garrison, today pleaded guilty in Superior Judge F. M. Jamison's court here, and applied for probation. Hearing on his appeal was set for August 17.

Garrison is charged with having issued a $25 check, alleged to be worthless, to H. S. Vaughn of Santa Ana.

Betrothals Weddings Receptions

Pasadena Church Is Setting for Wedding Of Garden Grove Girl

The Westminster Presbyterian church of Pasadena, was the scene of an exceptionally pretty wedding on Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock when Miss Henrietta J. Dickey, daughter of Samuel A. Dickey of Garden Grove, and Mr. Frank H. Cowgill, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Cowgill of Huntington Park, were united in marriage.

The church, attractive in itself, was beautifully decorated for the occasion with masses of sword fern, ivy and golden agapanthus. The bride was charming in her wedding gown of white canton crepe and chantilly lace, with flowing veil of lace and Brussels point, an heirloom of the family, worn with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Preceding the wedding march, Mrs. Joy Nash Fryer, sang, "The Sweet Voice." The strains of that age-old favorite, Menhelssohn's wedding march, heralded the approach of the bride on the arm of her brother, William Dickey of San Antonio, Texas, and her two small attendants, a nephew, Wallace Dickey Jr., in a little full dress suit, bearing the rings on a white satin pillow, and a niece, Ruth Eleanor Glass, dainty in fluffy white organdy, strewn the pathway with pink rose leaves.

At the altar they were met by the groom and his father, Dr. Frank B. Cowgill, the officiating clergyman, who used the impressive Episcopal service in a double ring ceremony.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cowgill are graduates of Stanford university, the former a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, and the latter a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mrs. Cowgill spent the past three years as teacher in the Bakersfield Union high school. Mr. Cowgill is a member of the credit department of the First National bank of Los Angeles.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dickey of Van Nuys, received in honor of the bride and groom at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Storey, 70 North Pasadena avenue. The young couple slipped away to parts unknown carrying with them the hearty good wishes of a host of friends.

Missionary Society

With Mrs. Horton Palmer presiding and conducting the consecration service and business session, the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church met yesterday afternoon with a large and enthusiastic number of members present.

The demonstration, presented by Miss Gladys Flint and a group of fourteen girls, arrayed in Indian garb, portrayed the over-crowded schools in many countries, especially India. When the native government interferes and many girls must be sent away because there is "no room," the self-sacrifice of those girls who offered to go because they were Christians, and to allow others to have their places was very affecting.

Mrs. Finn announced that the King's Herald would have a food sale in Blauer's grocery August 4, to raise thirty dollars for their scholarship.

The Young Woman's Foreign Missionary society has changed its name to the Doris Welles auxiliary and is doing splendid work for the Foreign Missionary society. Mrs. P. A. Robinson extended an invitation for the auxiliary to hold the next meeting at her cottage at Newport Beach. This was gratefully accepted.

Mrs. Finn read two splendid letters from missionaries in India—Miss M. M. Bigbee and Miss Fanny Frober.

Mrs. McCormac who has charge of the missionary assistant fund, read a beautifully written letter from Edward I. Orr, the native assistant missionary in the girls' school, Ajmere, India, and a highly educated man whose work is such a success.

The study of missionary work in Africa and Europe was presented by Miss Kathleen Stewart in a masterly manner. A map, made by Miss Davidson, of our Santa Ana Mexican work, was exhibited, showing the relative size of Africa with other countries.

Miss Rachel Stewart told about Taoism and Ammism in Africa; Mrs. Winslow gave a concise report of Mohammedanism; Mrs. Rairdon told the story of the nurse in training in London, who received her religious education in Lovetch, Bulgaria, and Mrs. Finuf sang a very sweet solo entitled "Open Mine Eyes That I May See."

The reading course examination will be held at the August meeting.

Young Ladies Sodality

Plans for serving dinner at the annual carnival of the Young Ladies' Sodality, July 25 and 26, were cancelled last night at a business meeting held at the Lieberman home.

Instead it was decided to feature a hot dog stand where satisfying sandwiches, hot coffee and accompanying good things would be sold. The articles will be prepared under the direction of W. K. Duffy. The carnival will be held on the grounds of St. Joseph's school.

Midnight Club Girls Hold Merry Session

One of the usual happy times for the young girls of the Midnight club resulted last night when Miss Ruth Cope and Miss Miriam Baird entertained at the home of the former on Chestnut street.

Five hundred offered the evening's entertainment with pretty prizes given for high and low scores. Miss Glenna-Jean Hill was the fortunate holder of high score and received a dainty ribbon rose whose petals hid thimble, needles and other appointments which made it a desirable acquisition to a sewing basket.

Miss Alice Mateer, scoring low, was presented with a dainty handkerchief to dry her tears. Following the games, the hostesses arranged the card tables with spicy pink carnations and served a delectable two-course supper to the guests who included the Misses Alice Mateer, Kathryn Buxton, Iris Head, Dorothy Stillens, Louise Campbell, Anna Grace McElrae, Allene Shipp, Isabel Wylie, Hazel Hamilton, Kathleen Trago, Glenna-Jean Hill and Mrs. Robert Jeffrey.

Social Calendar

July 20—Stated session of Fraternal Aid union at M. W. A. hall; 8 p. m.

July 24—Calumpit auxiliary tea with Mrs. Carrie Adams, 1925 South Parton street; 2 p. m.

July 24—Past Matrons' association of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., to meet in afternoon at Masonic temple and entertain husbands at picnic supper.

July 25-26—Carnival on St. Joseph school grounds, Lacy and Stanford, under auspices of Young Ladies' Sodality.

July 26—Picnic of Orange county Ohioans at Orange county park with basket supper at 6 p. m.

July 27—Entertainment and dance under auspices of the Moose lodge at Elite hall, 316 East Third street; 8:30 p. m.

Will Honeymoon At Laguna Beach

A quiet little wedding which will be of much interest to their many friends was that of Miss Jessie Myrtle Fowler of San Francisco and William Lloyd Blankenbecker of this city, which took place last night at 7 o'clock.

Unattended, the young couple went to the parsonage home of the groom's cousin, the Rev. Roy Morgan, where the wedding vows were taken. They then returned to the home of Mr. Blankenbecker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Blankenbecker, of West Fifth street, where a delightfully appointed wedding dinner was awaiting them.

Later in the evening the happy couple motored to Laguna Beach where they will spend their honeymoon, varied by a visit to the groom's sister, Mrs. P. G. Stroud who, with her husband, is in camp at San Juan Hot Springs.

Mr. Blankenbecker is working for the Standard Oil company at Hynes where the young people will make their home. His bride's parents, former Santa Anans, are now living at San Francisco but she has been spending the past few months with the family of her sister in Orange.

The Register reaches the far corners of the county.

Frocks Must Have Irregular Lines Says Paris Announcing New Effects in Mid-summer Styles

COPYRIGHT BY M. CALLS

One may be as regular in daily habits as life, inclination and society demands, but frocks must be irregular. So decrees Paris, and it is from Paris that all good fashions are said to come, just as it is to Paris that all good Americans are said to go when they die.

The irregular effect seen in the mid-summer frocks just over from abroad, may be achieved either in the lines of the gown itself or in its trimming. It doesn't matter, just so the irregularity is attained. Perhaps flounces will drop or perhaps a neckline will go zig-zagging away in a manner that no self-respecting neckline would have tolerated a few seasons ago. Perhaps the ribbon sash will offer a bow that goes wandering away in an inconsequential manner or perhaps it will be merely that a bead- or embroidered design will go looping to one side.

It doesn't really matter. The effect is everything and how that effect is attained is the smallest thing to worry about. So if you don't want to buy new frocks at once, see to it that those you have are furnished up a bit and the popular new irregularity introduced, if not by fair means, then by foul.

Cigars, 18 inches long, weighing half a pound, and priced at $8.75, were recently exhibited in London.

Paris has a population of 2,906,000—more than a million increase since 1861. A greater proportion of London's street accidents happen between 3 and 4 in the afternoon than at any time of the day or night.

French—Wilcox Wedding Offers Motif for Pleasant Events

Many pleasant events are almost daily showing the interest being taken by friends in the betrothal and approaching marriage of Miss Julia French and John Wilcox, popular young people of the city who have announced Wednesday, July 25 as their wedding date.

Miss French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund French of North Ross street, has been one of the efficient and courteous operators at the local telephone exchange where she presided over the U. S. long distance lines. Her fiancé, Mr. Wilcox, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilcox, 615 West Second street, and is connected with the John McFadden company.

Public announcement of the betrothal was made at a charmingly appointed luncheon presented by Mrs. H. E. French, sister-in-law of the bride-elect, at her Los Angeles home when many local friends were present to be told the pretty secret and respond with loving congratulations and wishes.

Among those sharing the pleasure of the afternoon with hosts and hostesses were the Misses Gladys French and Margaret French, Mrs. Edmund E. French, Mrs. H. B. Crozier, Mrs. Louise Potts and Mrs. Harold Yost of this city together with many guests from Los Angeles and nearby cities.

Among events following the announcement and complimenting the young people was a surprise miscellaneous shower presented by Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McMillan, 702 South Birch street when a score of guests gathered to compliment the betrothed pair.

The wedding plans as outlined by the bride-elect, will include a simple home ceremony with only those "nearest and dearest" to be present. The marriage service will be read by the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church.

This Ad is Written, Appealing to Stout Women Who Wear Sizes from 44 to 52

Oftentimes women come into our store and say: "Why don't you carry sizes for stout women? I would love to buy my clothes ready made if only I could be properly fitted." But invariably we can answer: "Why, my dear madam you can be fitted here as we specialize on 'fashionable stout styles.'" Some few months ago we placed an order for some Voile Dresses to be made according to our specifications, but much to our disappointment they were delayed in making and transportation and have just arrived, a month too late. We made a claim—got a big, liberal discount which we now offer to you.

Styles Particularly Adapted to Stout Women

The dresses are made of Fine French Voiles in very neat and conservative little figures, and of genuine Normandy Dotted Voiles in shades of brown, navy and Copenhagen blue. They are beautifully designed along lines particularly adapted for women of large proportions, which really do not look large or have a tendency to magnify.

Call and see these splendid Voile dresses—try them on and you'll never say: "I can't be fitted in ready-made dresses."

They are very neatly trimmed in fine val and all-over laces and the finest of Swiss Embroidery, other just piped with a little edge and bands of silk.

The workmanship is neat, seams are well finished and snaps are securely sewed on.

COURT SEES NO BAD OMEN IF DOG HOWLS

The mournful howl of a dog, signalling fulfillment of his death prophecy, convinced John W. Harris Jr., confessed "check kiter," he has only a few months to live, he told Superior Judge F. M. Jami-sen, here today, in asking probation, on the ground that he wanted to die outside rather than inside of prison.

In view of asserted circumstances surrounding the case, his appeal failed to move the court, who sentenced Harris to a term of from one to fourteen years in San Quentin.

Harris arose in the center of a fleetingly-dramatic situation in the well-filled court chamber. "The court had rejected his appeal for probation, so he asked permission to say a few words."

Says Hour at Hand
White-lipped and with emotion, he stumbled through disjointed sentences, declaring that, even as one of his forebears had died in Andersonville prison in 1863, the prophecy of death was upon him. Only last night, he said, the howling of a dog had let him know "his hour was near at hand."

"I'm sorry," said the court, "but we cannot be ruled by sympathy in these cases."

"I've something to say, the like of which you probably have never before heard in this court room," had been the preface to Harris' remarks, as he had started to speak.

Other Accusations
But the court had heard such petitions before, according to court attaches.

"We get that death prophecy every once in awhile," one of them said.

The probation officer and the district attorney's office refused to recommend probation for Harris. An investigation was said to have disclosed other check transactions in addition to the one involved in the charge. His alleged failure to contribute to the support of his wife and three young children also was said to have been investigated.

Find Little Insanity Among U. S. Indians

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The Indian bureau, under the direction of Commissioner Charles Burke, points to the fact that there are only 125 insane Indians out of a total of 235,000 under government guardianship. This is a percentage of only .5 of 1 per cent per 1,000. Practically all of those afflicted are treated at the government hospital for Indian insane at Canton, S. D.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR SWIMMING POOL

ANAHEIM, July 20.—A contract for the construction of a swimming pool and bathhouse in the Anaheim city park to cost $37,700 was last night awarded by the city council to the local firm of Soth and Franzen. The company was also the successful bidder for the building of the city garage and stables for $2077. They will also be built in the city park. Work will begin at once.

At the present time bathing facilities in the city park are decidedly inadequate, many swimmers being forced to use the well known barrel for dressing rooms, according to the city clerk.

Under the contract a first class pool, said to be the largest in Orange county, will be installed together with a modern bathhouse.

300 LOCAL MEN AT BIBLE CLASS MEET

Three hundred Orange County Men's Community Bible class members today were enthusiastically describing the quarterly convention of Southern California Men's Bible classes held last night at Pomona, and attended by 800 men.

Three men from this county were on the program for addresses and the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church here and teacher of the Men's Community Bible class of 500 members, gave the invocation.

Speakers from here were R. R. Miller, county probation officer, on the subject, "What is a Man's Community Bible Class?"; Elmer Stulke of Fullerton, "Class Publicity," and Percy Clarkson of Orange, "Every Day Service of the Bible Class."

The principal address was by Edgar F. Daugherty of Los Angeles on "A Man's Life."

EVA TANGUAY SEEKS TO DODGE WRINKLES

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—Eva Tanguay, the "I don't care girl" does care—about her wrinkles.

The vaudeville star today entered a Hollywood beauty hospital, where she will be given a two weeks treatment to remove all lines of fatigue and age.

"When I come out I may have the debutante finish and I may not, I believe I shall. But if I don't," and the star, who was once the highest paid vaudeville performer in America, swung her arms in old time exuberance, "I don't care!"

The cyclonic Eva is not the first popular star to resort to a Hollywood beauty doctor to exchange an old face for a new one. Alla Nazimova and Raymond Hitchcock were recently reported to have been laid up here for facial repairs.

Husband Charges Wife Left Him, Asks Relief

Grover B. Pfeiffer's suit for divorce from Vera M. Pfeiffer, who is charged with deserting him, was on file today in the superior court here, through Attorney Roger C. Dutton of Anaheim.

The couple married October 7, 1906, at Sioux Falls, S. D., and separated July 1, 1922, when the alleged desertion was said to have taken place. They have on child, a girl, aged 15.

COUNTRY CLUB ADDS 52 NEW MEMBERS

Fifty-two new members were added to the Santa Ana Country club during the first two days of the drive to "sell the club idea" to residents of Santa Ana and vicinity, according to chairmen of the six committees actively soliciting memberships here today.

"We find," said E. T. Mateer, a member of the board of directors of the new club, "that the people are keenly alive to the necessity for a modern club house and golf course here."

"There are any number of reasons why the men, women and children of Santa Ana and vicinity should be interested in the Country club idea."

"For the man, it furnishes an investment of unusual possibilities, affords a perfect golf course ten minutes from Santa Ana, gives a delightful place to entertain out-of-town guests, and combines healthful recreation with local friends."

"For the woman, it presents a delightful setting with special accommodations to entertain at luncheon, cards, dancing, etc. It furnishes ladies' dressing rooms, containing lockers, showers and all appointments for their convenience."

"It affords playgrounds for the children, including tennis courts, croquet grounds and other amusement features. It extends a welcome to all minor children of club members."

"Although this is an investment in good real estate, nevertheless, it is also one of those community enterprises in which some must volunteer, possibly even to the extent of considerable inconvenience, for the common good of all. Our people should support this movement in every possible way."

Millionaire Tried To 'Buy' Titled Man for Daughter, Claim

LONDON, July 20.—The extraordinary charge that Henry Tabor, mining millionaire of Denver, asked, "Now, duke, what'll you take in cash to be my son-in-law?" is made by his grace, the duke of Manchester, in a signed article in the Sunday Herald.

Manchester (for when one doesn't say "your grace" one must address dukes by their last names only) alleges that Tabor broached possible marriage between the titled Britisher and his daughter Echo in truly business-like manner.

When the young man visited Denver, Tabor entertained him, and requested him to marry his daughter, Manchester declared. He refused, but according to his story, Echo blamed her father's parsimony for his refusal, and asked his grace:

"Will you take me if I make dad double the offer?"

The article is a free and frank confession of almost-matrimonial episodes in America.

In addition to the flattering offer to go into the son-in-law business, Manchester declares American newspapers rumored he was engaged to Pauline Astor and Miss Ogden Goelet. He declared there was nothing in the story, and that he was then in love with Helena Zimmerman, whom he later married.

Her father objected to her wedding with the gay young duke, and Manchester says: "I fear he did not forgive me, for he was most careful not to mention me in his will."

His grace, the duke of Manchester, is well known in Fleet street, London's newspaper row, as a prolific writer of feature articles. Many of his stories have been accepted by American newspapers and published here. London newspaper men recall him as one of the few writers who ever came down to the offices in a taxi to collect their salaries.

Manchester recently broke into print as headed for California to seek employment in the movies. Apparently he changed his mind, for he is now said to be in Canada in connection with the rush to Northern gold fields there.

Father, 88, Greets Stork For 45th Time! Tot Born Recently

If Theodore Roosevelt were alive today, and knew the circumstances, the chances are that he would extend the glad hand, cry "d-e-l-i-g-h-t!" and send Romulo Delsi, 88-year-old Orange county "daddy," a special prize, as a token of his admiration.

For Delsi, be it known, is no believer in race suicide, according to his son-in-law, Frank Belandry of this city, who reported today that a bouncing baby girl was born to Delsi's wife, Rosa, at their home near Stanton, early this week.

Mrs. Delsi, who is 45 years old, is the mother of ten children, the eldest a son now 30 years old, having been born when she was a very young woman.

"Nine years ago," said Belandry, "when my father-in-law was 79 years old, his wife presented him with twins. And last Sunday, at 88, he became the proud father of a lovely girl baby, weighing eight pounds, and as sound as a new silver dollar."

"Toda, he is very, very happy, and is receiving the congratulations of his friends in Santa Ana and in the county."

This, however, is not all. According to Dr. C. D. Ball, who has known Delsi for many years, the aged father has been married four times and has forty-five children!

"At least, that's what Delsi told me when I was called to attend his wife," said Dr. Ball here today, "and making due allowance for some discrepancies, I am inclined to believe he is the father of at least forty children. On one occasion, when I visited the Delsi home, I officiated at the birth of children to Delsi's wife, and to his daughter, at the same time and in the same house. I saw the old gentleman sitting out-bread-crums."

At one Bavarian hotel a visitor found the tablecloths and napkins to be paper, the butter margarine, the coffee oats, and the rice I saw the old gentleman sitting out-bread-crums.

EDITOR 'STICKS' WHEN INFORMED DEATH NEAR

NEW YORK, July 20.—Told by doctors that he had but a few months to live, John K. Siddall, editor of the American Magazine, guarded the secret from his friends and made plans, before keeping his rendezvous with death, for the publication he loved and made famous to carry on his ideas.

Siddall died at his Ardsley-on-Hudson home of cancer. His most intimate friends had known for two weeks that the end was near, but the editor had kept his grim secret locked behind a cheerful, energetic exterior since early April.

At the end of a long, distinguished career in journalism and the magazine field, Siddall literally gave his life for his magazine; his days were shortened by his tremendous labors to have everything in order at the American Magazine when he passed.

Siddall's ambition was to produce a magazine in which every subscriber would read a bit of the "editor's dominant makeup." He was author of the essays "Sid Says."

Circulation Jumps
An increase in circulation from 400,000 to 2,000,000 under his editorial guidance is a testimonial of success.

In April a council of doctors met to discuss the malady that was undermining his health. "I want the truth about this matter," he said, just as though he was ordering a reporter out on an important story.

And they told him. He had six months to live—providing he gave up all work and rested; relieved himself of editorial burdens and went out doors.

With the calmness of an editor working out the details of an important story, he closeted himself for several days. He didn't tell a living soul of the trust he held with death.

Then, he called his associates to him. He said the doctors had told him he would soon be well—Day by day he outlined the coming issues of the magazine, shifting this piece of responsibility to one understudy, then to another. He continued to write his own contributions for issues months ahead.

Quits When Work Over
It was some time before he had saddled the important duties on the members of his staff. But they all accepted bravely, that their "chief" might get the "vacation" that was to restore his health.

With everything in readiness for many future issues of his book, he went to his office last week. His desk contained but few articles—others were in the hands of his associates. He bundled these few articles together and closed the door of his beloved sanctum behind him—alone in the knowledge that it would be the last time he would ever visit "the office."

Then he went to his summer home at Ardsley-on-Hudson. The wait for the end was not long.

His body was interred at Oberlin, Ohio, where he was born. But for many months the hand of John Siddall will dominate and guide the magazine he built.

Natives of the interior of Africa hoard cattle as their wealth. They never kill or sell an ox.

Only nine deaths occurred out of a total of 784 street accidents in the city of London in 1921.

Elementary education in England, it is estimated, will cost $155,000,000 during this year.

In the 295 bull-fights held in Spain during 1921, four bull-fighters, 28,764 horses and 1682 bulls were killed.

Knowledge of coming weather changes shown by birds is attributed to atmospheric pressure on their nerves.

There are altogether about 400 street telephone booths in England.

In a gram of soil, about equal to a teaspoonful, the number of living organisms often exceeds 40,000,000.

Machines for the detection of the deadly carbon monoxide gas, for use in American mines, are now being tested.

Man's Trouble Arrested
"The past 4 years I have been going down, down, down with catarrh of the stomach and had to give up work a year ago because of my weakened condition. I suffered terribly from bloating and colic attacks. May's Wonderful Remedy was recommended to me. I took a course of it and am now feeling fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Ady

LITTLE TOT ON FIRST TRIP TO BARBER SHOP NO SLACKER

Takes Calisthenics Before End of Operations, but Otherwise Is 'Game'

COMPARE YOUNGSTERS

Woman Reporter in Chair Draws Infant's Scorn, but Soon He Flirts

BY ELEANOR ELLIOTT.

He wasn't a day over 14 months, that sturdy and very matter-of-fact young man who took the big adjustable chair next to mine at the barber shop where I was having my hair trimmed.

It was very plainly his first experience of the kind, but with true Americanism, he looked Glass B. Metz, the barber, in the eye with a sort of a man-to-man feeling, if you know what I mean, turned a speculative eye on me as one who would say, "What are the women coming to anyway?" and submitted to having the apron fastened around his neck.

There was no question that he was keenly interested in the whole performance, but with characteristic restraint, he hid that interest behind a mask of indifference, as the scissors relentlessly clipped the soft baby curls of chestnut brown from the nape of his neck.

"How do you want it cut?" asked Metz of his father, Walter Muckenthaler, to be told a straight bob, like all the boys.

Some Kick and Scream.

"Strange how they differ, the children that are brought to a barber shop for a first haircut," remarked H. H. Allen, as his sharp scissors restored symmetry to the shaggy ends of my own clowning glory. "Sometimes I think it is the way in which they have been taught trust in their parents. Sometimes a child will kick and scream, no matter how much the distressed parents try to quiet it. The more they talk, the louder it screams. Don't you believe that would indicate that the child has learned they are not entirely to be trusted?"

At the risk of having a triangular hunk of hair cut from my tresses, I twisted around to watch the occupants of the other chairs. Not a man there but who was craning his neck to watch that baby. Not a barber but who was paying more attention to Master Harold Muckenthaler than to the patron in his particular chair.

—And Santa Ana Grew

Compact Stories of Pioneers Who Built Enterprises on Firm Foundations That Tidal Waves of Depression Could Not Wash Away—The Future Was Anticipated.

C. P. KRYHL

By TOM LEWIS

Forty years ago, when C. P. Kryhl, a struggling young watchmaker, came to Santa Ana, one of the first persons he met was W. H. Spurgeon. He has never had cause to regret that meeting.

Today, if you are fortunate enough to sit for an hour with this remarkable pioneer in the little back room of his jewelry shop at 118 East Fourth street, where Ed Stafford had a harness shop twenty years ago, you will receive from him a word picture of early Santa Ana that you will never forget.

That picture, kaleidoscopic though it may be, includes some exceptionally fine close-ups of the splendid company of men and women who were part and parcel of the earlier history of this thriving community. Many of that splendid company have long since joined the silent host, but their deeds live in the hearts of those who knew them and loved them.

"I must show you," said Mr. Kryhl, fumbling in an inner pocket, "something that I have kept beside me for many years. It throws an interesting sidelight on the past, and will call to your mind a man who was the very backbone of the pioneer movement to make Santa Ana one of the best towns in Southern California."

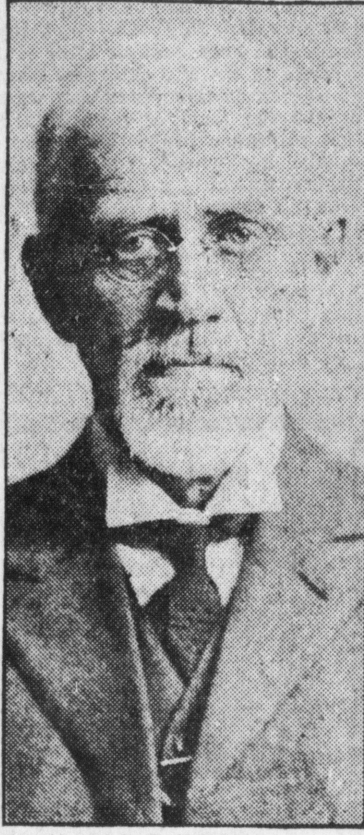

Shows Old Receipt

Here he produced a wrinkled and yellowed bit of paper. That tiny scrap of paper, bearing the signature of W. H. Spurgeon, was a receipt showing that, on June 15, 1883, C. P. Kryhl had paid ten dollars, as rent in full, for a little store in the Spurgeon building, then a general merchandise establishment, at the corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets.

"Ten dollars!" said Mr. Kryhl. "Think of it. Ten dollars a month for a store on Fourth street!" But the great-hearted Spurgeon was fearful lest even this small sum would prove a financial burden to the hard-working young watchmaker.

"Kryhl," he said one day, dropping into the tiny shop to have his great English watch repaired, "Kryhl, are we charging you too much rent for this place? If so, I want you to tell me. We have no desire to make it too hard on you."

"Nor did his interest end there," added Mr. Kryhl, touching upon his earlier struggles in the little town in the heart of the mustard fields. "Time and again he came into my shop, bringing others with

CONSCIENCE IS GUIDE IN CITY VIOLATIONS

Recorder Wants Defendants in Traffic Cases to Plead Their Cases

Circumstances alter cases when it comes to infractions of traffic regulations.

W. F. Heathman, city recorder, today stated this was his firm belief.

Furthermore, he frankly admitted he is guided by this belief in disposing of cases that come before him.

Which explains, he pointed out, why some persons are fined and others are dismissed for apparently the same offense.

"I always want to hear the statement of the person in the case," Heathman said, "and I always try to give a person who is sincere the benefit of the doubt."

Some "Take Chance" "A man who came to me yesterday for passing a street car on the left side was plainly guilty in the full sense of the word, and I could not possibly let him go. There was no reason at all for such an act, which is a dangerous violation of what I consider an important traffic rule."

Some persons "take a chance" on getting arrested and break the law intentionally, the recorder pointed out, while others unintentionally make a mistake, maybe just once, but that once may be their Waterloo.

With so many different cases coming up it is right, believes the recorder, to consider each case individually, and to temper justice with mercy.

Women Treated Same

Again there are those who come on a first offense and others who come in again and again. These things do not all appear at the time to outsiders, but Heathman says he believes in taking such things into consideration.

"I never let a woman off just because she is a woman," he said emphatically.

"I am absolutely opposed to being vamped." And no fair damsel who heard Heathman make this statement would have been willing to try, just then at least.

"No, I have no standard, no schedule, or no consistent policy about fining persons who are arrested," it was added, "except my policy of trying to give every person justice and fair play. I want to give every man a chance, but, on the other hand, I cannot extend mercy in cases where the offender is clearly due for punishment."

BLOOD TRANSFUSION OPERATIONS HAILED

NEW YORK, July 20.—Two unusual operations for transfusion of blood, successfully carried through at the New Haven General hospital, now a part of the medical school of Yale University, have been made known by institution officers.

In each instance the person's blood was drawn off and injected back into the system through the veins.

The first case was that of a pregnant woman who had a severe hemorrhage in the abdomen. The surgeons drew off the blood from the abdomen, tied the vessels and, after filtering the blood, transfused it into her system.

Soon after a man was admitted with hemorrhage of the liver following an automobile accident. The abdomen was filled with blood. The staff treated the liver, filtered the blood drawn off and injected it through the arm.

Both patients are regarded as convalescents.

A week ago, after a negro lad had been stabbed under the heart, the surgeons opened the heart cavity, washed the organ and mended a cut, drew the blood from the cavity and sewed up the wound. He is almost ready for discharge.

NEWSPAPER OF 1800 IS S. A. MAN'S PRIZE

George Washington Funeral Elaborately Described in Small Publication

Containing an account of the funeral of George Washington, an English report of the battle of Zurich, an official bulletin from Strassburg announcing that the army of the Rhine had re-taken Mannheim and Frankfurt, and resolutions expressing the sorrow of the American congress upon the passing of the great war President, a copy of the Ulster County Gazette, published at Kingston, N. Y., January 4, 1800, today was in possession of J. C. Schmidt, 2055 North Main street, this city.

This little newspaper, a four-page affair, seventeen by eleven, is well preserved. It was brought to Orange county by Schmidt's brother, who arrived here from the old home of the Schmidts in South Dakota.

"My brother was unable to say just how long the paper had been in possession of our family," said Schmidt, "and I do not recall having heard my parents discuss it in our former home. My brother found it when cleaning out some old papers before leaving South Dakota for a motor trip to the Pacific coast."

In Black Border

Touching upon the funeral of General Washington, a black-bordered article, under date of Georgetown, December 20, 1799, says:

"On Wednesday last, the mortal part of Washington the Great—the father of his country and the friend of man—was consigned to the tomb, with solemn honors and funeral pomp."

"A multitude of persons assembled, from many miles around, at Mount Vernon, the choice abode and last residence of the illustrious chief."

"There were the groves, the spacious avenues, the beautiful and sublime scenes, the noble mansion, but alas! the august inhabitant was now no more! The great soul was gone."

"His mortal part was there, indeed, but, ah, how affecting, how awful the spectacle of such worth and greatness, thus to mortal eyes, fallen! Yes, fallen! fallen!"

"In the long and lofty portico, where oft the hero walked in life, lay the shrouded corpse."

"The countenance, still composed and serene, seemed to express the dignity of the spirit, which lately dwelt in that lifeless form. There, those who paid the last sad honors to the benefactor of his country took an impressive, a farewell view."

"On the ornament at the head of the coffin was inscribed 'surge ad iudicium,' about the middle of the coffin 'Gloria deo,' and on the silver plate, 'General George Washington, departed this life on the 14th of December, 1799, Aet. 68.'"

"Between 3 and 4 o'clock, the sound of artillery from a vessel in the river, firing minute guns, awoke afresh our solemn sorrow. The corpse was moved, a band of music, with mournful melody melted the soul into all the tenderness of woe."

"The procession was formed and moved in the following order: Cavalry; infantry; guard; music; clergy; the general's horse, with his saddle, holsters and pistols; and the pall bearers, Colonels Simms, Ramsay, Payne, Gilpin, Marsteller and Little."

Predicts Lasting Fame

"When the funeral procession arrived at the bottom of the elevated lawn, on the banks of the Potomac, where the family vault is placed, the cavalry halted; the infantry marched toward the mount and formed their lines, the clergy, the Masonic brothers and the citizens descended to the vault, and the service of the church was performed. The firing was repeated from the vessel in the river, and

MOTHER SUCCESSFUL WITH CHINA PAINTING AS IN WEDDED LIFE

MRS. EDYTH SCHILLER.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 20.—Never let marriage interfere with business.

So says Mrs. Edyth Schiller. Worcester woman who is a success as a business woman as well as a mother.

There isn't much relation between painting china and raising children, but Mrs. Schiller supplemented one with the other.

"I always loved to paint," she said, "even when a child. I naturally drifted into the work. I've been at it for eighteen years."

She met her husband while working.

"Of course," she says, "after my marriage I had to give up work for a while—but it wasn't for long. Now my three children help me. My daughter, Olive, 17, paints with me. Together we have won several prizes for our work."

Their business has spread from Worcester all over the country.

500 MEN HERE JOIN TO HELP 'BROTHERS'

Some cities in the West have Goodfellows," an organization functioning for the needy, usually at Christmas time.

Santa Ana has an organization that does similar work at timely moments.

It is building a home for a family in the west part of the city which now lives in a tent. The father is unable to work and there are eight children.

Since January 1, $450 has been spent to aid two other worthy families here get homes.

No understanding is reached concerning the return of the money advanced. If there comes a more fortunate time when it can be repaid, the sum will go back into the local organization's fund, for similar purposes.

20 Homes Get Food.

Thus, the Men's Community Bible class, which meets at 9 a. m. Sundays at the Temple theater, does a humanitarian work here that probably is not duplicated.

And, best of all, the kindly deeds are performed quietly.

More than twenty families have been helped with the food problem. Medical care has been made possible for others.

There are 500 men in the class and, it is said, when they receive a call for help they never refuse needy people, who are worthy. The fund is made up of voluntary contributions.

The service committee of the class is headed by W. T. Mitchell who investigates reported needs and handles the plans for this work.

The Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, is the class teacher. Leon Eckles directs the music, and W. B. Martin is class president. Dr. A. M. Crane is secretary and Merrill Morris is treasurer.

COUNTY HARBOR PROJECT GIVEN CONGRESSMAN SWING'S AID AT CAPITAL

Interview in The Register Draws Pledge of Active Work at Washington

TIME HELD OPPORTUNE

Federal Recognition Due Since Industries Are Coming, Claim

To show the deep interest in Newport harbor being taken by many prominent officials, and in line with the efforts of the new secretary of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, Congressman Phil D. Swing today had written Harry Welch a letter responding to Welch's recent interview in the Santa Ana Register, outlining the possibilities of Newport harbor as it affects the wealth and growth of Orange county.

Congressman Swing's letter follows:

To Visit Soon

"My Dear Mr. Welch: I have just read your statement on Newport harbor in the Santa Ana Register. I agree with all you say and appreciate the fact that Orange county has settled down in earnest to set public recognition of the Orange county harbor. I want to work hand and glove with you, as I consider Newport harbor one of the big projects in my district."

"I am planning to spend a week in Orange county; the not far distant future, and a considerable part of that time I want to devote to planning a proper presentation of the Orange county harbor merits to the national government."

Cites Dam Project

"With the Boulder dam project looking more favorable every day, there is every reason why Orange county should whip its harbor into shape to get the advantage of coming industries, which will follow the cheap power and which will want to locate, as far as practicable, upon a good harbor."

"Do not hesitate to call on me at any time when I can be of service to you, and don't hesitate to write me any information which you think I ought to have."

"With best regards and best wishes, I am,

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) PHIL D. SWING."

COUNTY'S HARBOR NOW ACTUAL THING

NEWPORT BEACH, July 20.—The Orange County Harbor is no longer a mere "proposed" harbor. It is an actual thing.

On August first, the first commercial cargo will enter the harbor on the boats of an organized and licensed concern.

The Newport Harbor Transportation company, of which J. H. Hayden of this city is president, has contracted for the use of one 250-ton barge twice weekly, and will unload products, shipside, at San Diego, and then bring them into Newport harbor.

The J. M. Whitney Lumber company of Huntington Beach has entered into contract, it is understood, with the transportation company, for the delivery of lumber.

The barge will make two round trips weekly, it was reported.

According to present arrangements with the Huntington Beach concern, it is understood that if the transportation company does not at any time have a full cargo, they will take the balance of space for lumber.

Much enthusiasm was displayed last night at the meeting of the board of directors of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce when this announcement was made by Lew Wallace.

Application has already been made to the state railroad commission for permit, giving specified schedules of trips.

The harbor has been used before for one or two private ventures, but never has it had an established, regularly operating concern, using its waters and wharfage.

Many Houses Quit Bear Side on Market Due to Thursday Gains

NEW YORK, July 20.—After an active and higher opening in the stock market, profit taking developed on a considerable scale in the first two hours. Offerings were well absorbed and by the fourth hour most stocks were at prices showing improvement over the previous closing. In some instances new highs were made for the recovery, notably American Locomotive and Stewart-Warner.

Considerable short covering was apparent in "Studebaker and Steel common. Strong gossip had it that the leading bear has yet to buy in his line.

Large public interest was reported in stocks and the list of houses converted from the bear side was augmented by Thursday's impressive gains.

Fashionable Wedding Bolted; Elope Here

Word of their elopement to Santa Ana and of their marriage in Justice J. B. Cox's famous court yesterday is bringing congratulations today to two young people in Los Angeles.

Miss Bernardine Warren, daughter of Col. and Mrs. H. P. Warren of Anchorage, Alaska, and Irving Abrams, French army war veteran, met at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles four months ago. Soon they announced their engagement. Yesterday, abandoning plans for a fashionable wedding, and surprising even the bride's parents, the pair came to Santa Ana to be married.

FILM STAR ASKS DIVORCE. LOS ANGELES, July 20.—Jackie Saunders, well known leading lady of the films, is seeking a divorce today from her husband, E. B. Horkheimer, movie producer, on grounds of desertion and non-support. The couple have been married seven years and have one child.

LITTLE TOT ON FIRST TRIP TO BARBER SHOP

Just then, the young man wearied and decided to tell the world he was ready to call it a day. It was several minutes before he was quieted. Not that he cried—no indeed, that wouldn't be the part of a man—he just squirmed. And if you never saw a lusty baby boy squirm under the barber's ministrations, you don't know how agile he can be.

Barber "Kidded." His father had a happy thought. "Why, you want your hands out, don't you, 'Timer?" and, with the apron lifted so that his hands were free, Master Harold stuck one fist in his mouth and signified his entire willingness for the operation to proceed.

"Shame on you, Metz, being so rough the boy had to keep his fist in his mouth to keep from striking you," jeered the other men, but such ribald taunts were ignored.

"Do we have many children in here?" repeated one of the men in response to my question. "Lots of them. We all like to work with them—most of us have children of our own, you know. Strange, isn't it, how kids interest you as you grow older? I didn't use to notice them at all, now we all like to have them in and when one is having a haircut, we all stop to watch. This laddie is quite a ladies' man. Notice how he ducks and smiles when you smile at him?" And it was true. Harold, varying the monotony of a haircut, was undeniably flirting with me, and so intriguing was the game of hearts, it was with a decided reluctance I doffed the big apron I wore, rubbed short hairs out of my mouth, paid my four-bits and left the shop to the friendly reign of King Baby.

the sounds echoed from the woods and hills around. "Three general discharges by the infantry, the cavalry and eleven pieces of artillery which lined the banks of the Potomac back of the vault, paid the last tribute to the entombed commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States and to the departed hero.

"The sun was now setting. Alas! the son of glory was set forever. Not the name of Washington, the American President and general, will triumph over death. The unclouded brightness of his glory will illumine the future ages!"

U. S. OIL ROYALTIES $1,000,000 MONTH

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The federal government, through the department of the interior, is receiving royalties from the production of oil, gas and natural gas gasoline on leased public lands in Wyoming, California, Montana and Colorado at the rate of more than $1,000,000 a month. Under the provisions of the general leasing act of 1920 these royalties have to date amounted to more than $24,000,000. Of this sum, approximately $10,000,000 is the result of "back royalties" accruing from production obtained on lands affected by the leasing act prior to the passage, while more than $14,000,000 has been received from royalties earned subsequent to the passage of the act.

Revenue from the naval petroleum reserves is paid either in "cash" or in "kind," and is credited for the use of the navy department. Ten percent revenue from leased public lands outside the naval reserves goes into the United States treasury and more than covers the cost of enforcing the act. Twenty per cent of "back royalties" and 37 1/2 per cent of subsequent earnings from these lands are paid to the particular states within whose boundaries the leased lands are situated, to be used for the maintenance of public roads or for the building of public institutions, as the legislature of the state may direct. The United States reclamation service receives 70 per cent of "back royalties" and 50 per cent of subsequent earnings to be used for the construction of irrigation projects irrespective of state limits.

him—Jim Leyman and Ed Stafford, and John Baker, and M. J. Bundy, and Bill Yost, and John Lowe and Judge Porter, and Ed Halesworth, and B. G. Balcom and C. E. French, and scores of others.

Booster For Kryhl "Boys," he would say to them, "I want you to remember Mr. Kryhl when you have any work along his line. He has come to make his home among us, he is industrious and deserving, and we want to help him all we can." That was the kind of friend Mr. Spurgeon was."

Born of a highly respected Danish family, moving to the rough mining country of Australia when he was but a child, fighting poverty for many years, mastering six languages, and finally winning, by sheer merit, a place high in the councils of the best minds in this country, C. P. Kryhl today, still active and in business, is in a position to give some friendly advice that the youth of the community may well ponder.

"You ask me what I would advise the young man to do," said Mr. Kryhl, repeating the reporter's inquiry. "From the depths of my heart, seared by bitter-sweet experience, I would say, without reservation:

"Make as much money as you can. Make it as honestly as you can. And save! Save! Save! When you make a dollar, save half of it if you can. How? By stern self-denial! By steadfast determination! Put something away every month. Interest yourself in a good building and loan association. Plan for a home and, if possible, a business of your own."

"I worked thirteen years in the great Elgin Watch company's plant at Elgin, Ill. My one ambition was to get out of the rutman class—to quit working for others—to work for myself. To this end, I boarded with a German family long enough to learn German. Then I lived with a Norwegian family. Thus I learned Norwegian, studying all the time. Next I mastered Swedish. As for English, I leave you to judge for yourself! And French—enough of that to get me into trouble!"

"But it was all for a set purpose. I was planning for the future. So I determined poverty would never overtake me in my old age, as it had overtaken my father in Australia, in the bitter struggle in the gold mining country."

"Finally, California—and Santa Ana! And then the steady, hard, uphill fight to overcome handicaps, to learn a little more each day, to be careful, honest, upright and a credit to the community in which I had cast my lot."

"That's just it. Cast in your lot with a good community, and make up your mind to stick to the finish. The fly-by-night citizen may be all right, but it is the fellow who keeps everlastingly at it, in a good town like Santa Ana, who forges ahead."

Tired of Being Buffeted Indicative of just how well Mr. Kryhl has followed his own advice is the record of his achievements. Twenty-one years ago, tired of being buffeted about from one small store to another, he determined to buy a place of his own. John Baker, then the owner of the property where the Kryhl jewelry shop is now located, was not at all impressed when Mr. Kryhl offered to "buy the place."

"How much do you want for it?" Mr. Kryhl demanded, indicating the somewhat shabby structure which housed a restaurant, a harness shop and other sidelines.

"Don't give a darn," said Baker. "Not any too anxious to sell."

"Name your price."

"Six thousand dollars."

"Anything off for cash?"

"Not a red cent. Six thousand or nothing. And I don't care whether I sell or not."

But Mr. Kryhl cared. In less than an hour he was closeted with M. M. Crookshank, then cashier of the First National bank. At 2 p. m. the same day he met Baker at the office of the title company. The six thousand dollars changed hands, and the property was turned over to the jeweler who had been renting stores all along Fourth street for ten dollars a month and upward. And on that spot has stood the house of Kryhl for twenty-one years. Recently Mr. Kryhl was offered thirty thousand dollars for the property!

"But that isn't all," he explained with a characteristic chuckle. "I want to tell you about some bargains I had to turn down because of the lack of cash. You know where Hank Seidel's market is located on Fourth street, near Broadway? At one time I could have bought three houses and three lots on that site, for fourteen hundred dollars!"

"And maybe you know Pasadena? Well then, you know where the First National bank is located—Fair Oaks and Colorado? I could have bought that lot for two hundred and twenty-five dollars. The bank paid twenty-seven thousand dollars for it!"

His eyes twinkle when he tells you all this. It is plain, however, that this gentle Danish watchmaker, who has retained much of the sweetness of life despite its vicissitudes, has few regrets.

Money, he tells you, is useful, but it is not everything. There is the fun of living!

"You get Stafford, or Tedford, or Edgar, or some of the old timers to tell you about the fun we had," he advises you, with a knowing wink, referring to some of the pranks they used to play on Bundy when that worthy operated the old Tustin horse car line. When the famous cream-colored horse, which was the backbone of the transportation system, had to be maintained more or less by public subscription. "Or when we threw Jim Layman in jail, as the first prisoner in the jail that Jim helped to build!"

Interview Closes Closing the interview, this young-old pioneer listened a moment to the steady clacking of a cement-mixer down the street.

"Putting up the new First National bank building," he said, with a jerk of his thumb toward Fourth and Main streets. "Of course, you knew that was the home of the old Commercial bank—but did you know that W. H. Spurgeon once gave that lot away to a dear woman who wanted a place to live. Pretty far out of town, so she could keep a cow and a few chickens!"

And here is this pioneer merchant's final word:

"Never go into debt for the things you can't afford. Pay cash or leave it alone."

SONG COMPOSER IS FEATURED BY KFAW

KFAW, The Register radiophone, offered a program of quality rather than quantity last night when Don Milligan, Chad Robinson and J. W. Beach entertained at The Register studio.

Milligan is becoming recognized as a clever song writer in Los Angeles musical circles. Two of his late compositions were given for the entertainment of KFAW's audience last night.

Robinson, possessor of a splendid basso voice, rendered "That Wonderful Dream of You," with the composer at the piano, and the cello obligato by Beach. Milligan then played his waltz ballad, "Mother Mine." The balance of the hour was filled in with Edison records and late news bulletins. Several last minute cancellations curtailed last night's program.

Milligan and Robinson will feature Milligan's songs at the Yost theater tonight and tomorrow and will also be heard in recital at Chandler's Music store, Saturday night.

'Dead' Man Speaks, Life Battle Fails

NEW YORK, July 20.—David L. Baumgarten, former Ohio congressman and New York business man, had been pronounced dead by a physician. A minister had said last prayers, and an undertaker had been called.

Samuel N. Smith, a business associate, entered the death chamber, and as he drew back the sheet from his friend's face, Baumgarten opened his eyes and said: "Hello, Samuel."

Then came a 16-hour fight to retain that part of life, but Baumgarten, who was president of the Aurora Film company, and of the United States and China Steamship company, died.

Dairy Reports of Nation Available

WASHINGTON, July 20.—In response to a demand from the dairy interests, the United States department of agriculture is inaugurating a special dairy reporting service, which will furnish monthly statistics on current milk production, prices, stocks and changes in dairy herds. The service has been planned and is to be tried out in an experimental way in New England states, New York and Wisconsin.

NOTED TEACHER ON POMONA FACULTY

CLAREMONT, Calif., July 20.—There are two recognized reasons for the existence of a college in any community.

One is that it may train and develop the young life committed to its care, for the highest type of citizenship in the future; the other is that it may be of actual practical service to the community in which it is located, through its researches and contributions to the life of its citizenship.

Pomona college is endeavoring to meet these two supreme demands. It is intensely interested in the horticultural problems of Southern California and is constantly preparing for a wider service in this field.

During the past year the college placed at the service of these interests Dr. Arlow B. Stout, botanical expert of the Bronx gardens, New York, whose discoveries in connection with the pollination of dates and avocados promise to contribute material values to these branches.

Is Specialist

During the coming year a new member of the faculty of Pomona college will be Dr. William Newton, whose special department will be the lines of plant bacteriology, physiology, pathology and pomology. Dr. Newton is a graduate of McGill university, Montreal, Canada, from which he received his degree. He has done graduate work at Cambridge university, England, and the University of California, which conferred upon him the degree of M. S., and where he is now completing his work for the degree of Ph. D.

Dr. Newton has specialized along the lines of agronomy, horticulture and plant physiology. He has occupied the position of soil and crop instructor in the department of agriculture, and chief of the soil and crop branch of the provincial board of agriculture of British Columbia. He has been a popular speaker at farmers' meetings and in connection with short courses given at farm institutes under the direction of the Canadian department of agriculture.

He has studied in France, Belgium, Germany and Great Britain, and is the author of a number of valuable farm bulletins published in connection with the Victoria, B. C. department of agriculture.

To Do Research Work
Dr. Newton's chief work has been in the line of extension and special research for which he has most unusual qualifications. He is a deep student of the science of plant physiology, has had abundant field experience, and can appreciate the rancher's point of view. He combines to an unusual degree the qualifications for teaching and research work with an ability to meet the rancher in the field of his practical problems.

An interesting fact in connection with Dr. Newton is that he comes from a family of university and college workers, being one of five brothers, all of whom now have their doctor's degree and are engaged either in research work or in teaching. Pomona college feels confident that in securing Dr. Newton for this important work, it will be contributing large values during the coming year to the horticultural interests of Southern California, it is learned.

Would Collect From Others Signing Note

Alleging he paid a note for $1,000 which he had signed jointly with two others as sponsors for H. F. Boeschling of Anaheim, principal maker of the note, A. Bevilard of Anaheim today had begun proceedings in the superior court here against Boeschling, J. E. Walter and Walter Hodges, whom he alleges to be the other signers of the note.

Bevilard is using for $1,026.06, his claim, including interest on the original sum. In his suit, Bevilard avers the others refused to join in paying off the note and that he did so to avoid court action and cost of collection. He is represented in the present action by Attorney Leonard Evans of Anaheim.

Vets of Spanish War Meet In Chattanooga

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 20.—The twenty-fifth national encampment of the United Spanish war veterans will be held in Chattanooga September 16-20. Veterans of the Spanish war from all parts of the country, accompanied by relatives and members of the women's auxiliaries, will mingle with men of the Civil and World wars as honored guests of the city. Twenty-five thousand persons are expected.

The national convention committee has invited Major Andrew S. Rowan as one of the distinguished guests of the encampment. Major Rowan as a young officer carried the "Message to Garcia" and was recently decorated for that service by congress, receiving the distinguished service cross.

An old-time southern barbecue on the battlefield at Chickamauga park, where so many troops were mobilized during the Spanish war, is one of the entertainment features that has been definitely decided upon for one day during the encampment.

LOW RAIL FARE IN MEXICO FOR SUN ECLIPSE

MEXICO CITY, July 20.—Excursion rates, consisting of a round trip ticket for a one-way fare, have been established by the National lines for those who wish to visit the northern states of Mexico on September 10, to observe the total eclipse of the sun. It is hoped that similar rates will be granted by the railroads of the United States.

In preparation for the thousands of scientists and others who are expected to visit Mexico to view the eclipse, the government is planning the establishment of numerous encampments at advantageous points in San Luis Potosi, Lower California and Sonora. While the phenomenon will be visible in all parts of the republic, these states are believed to offer more advantages for accurate observation.

The news that the world's most eminent scientists from America, Europe and Asia will attempt to check the accuracy of the Einstein theory of relativity by observations of the sun's eclipse from Mexico's mountains has roused the government to exert every effort to facilitate their work.

Felix Will Die In Interest of Science

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Felix of Philadelphia is in solitary confinement at the insecticide laboratory of the department of agriculture.

He has the honor of being the only bedbug received by the laboratory in response to a nationwide appeal for bedbugs and more bedbugs at 1 cent apiece. He is doomed to succumb to one or more of the various insecticide for the elimination of his kind and more of his fellows are needed, according to Dr. Walter S. Abbott, in charge of the laboratory at Vienna, Va., near here. Felix arrived in a small box enclosed in an envelope, postmarked Philadelphia. The name and address of the shipper are withheld by Dr. Abbott.

Alleged Death Threat Wins Decree for Wife

Testifying that her husband came home drunk, beat her and threatened to kill her, Mrs. Neva Wickham of Huntington Beach today had been granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Leo Wickham, who now resides in Los Angeles. 9,000 Federal Workers Are Receiving Annuities

WASHINGTON, July 20.—There are now 9,334 employees of the federal government drawing annuities, according to the latest figures compiled by the department of the interior. This is the largest number since the passage of the retirement act by congress in 1920. The total applicants and claims for annuities under the retirement act with the interior department amount to 12,078, of which 629 have been rejected and dismissed for various reasons. The number of claims pending for action on June 30, 1923, is 453.

Praises Wonders of King Tut's Tomb, Though $6 Is Admission

Old King Tut's tomb costs $6 a look. And the exchequer of the old boy's Egyptian ancestors is getting fatter and fatter as the tourists come pouring in to the country to view the tomb of the ancient King whom publicity and women's styles made famous.

"Hotels are fairly bulging, as an unending line of tourists come," said the Rev. B. C. Johnson, former Santa Ana pastor, here today, upon his return from a year's tour around the world.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson visited Tut's tomb on the day it was being sealed up. He talked to Lord Carnarvon and Lord Carter three days before Carnarvon's death.

"Tut's tomb is only one of a whole series of tombs of ancient kings. The Egyptian government controls them all and charges $6 a visit," the pastor explained.

Wonders Appreciated

"Tut's fame is part of a money-making publicity scheme," the press agents merely have picked his tomb, as one, and made much of it so as to get tourists to come to view them all.

"But the tombs are wonderful and no one is disappointed in seeing them."

With a wealth of first-hand impressions of the conditions in the countries he visited, the Rev. Mr. Johnson described the friendly attitude of people's of all countries toward Americans.

"An American can go where no one else can go and he is treated well everywhere," it was declared.

"Everyone wants to come to America."

"I believe that if we should let down the bars today, half the world would flock to our shores."

England in Bad Shape

Political and economic conditions in China were described as deplorable; the Turks were found to be insolent and displaying much independence; Greece has the cheapest living in the world, while the Italians are enjoying good economic conditions.

The Johnsons visited Smyrna and believe, from information there, that the city was burned by Turkish vagabonds for plunder, and not by either the Turkish or the Greek armies.

"The worst battlefields of France, such as Albert, just out from Amiens, which we visited, are completely rebuilt and the French people are industrious and cheerful, but they are united on their attitude on the Ruhr situation," it was noted.

"They hate the Germans with the bitterest hatred I have known."

"The greatest poverty in the world today and the worst conditions among the lower classes we found in England," said the Rev. Mr. Johnson. "There is no country anywhere in such an economic state as is England."

The Rev. Mr. Johnson who formerly was pastor of the Free Methodist church here, is visiting his brother-in-law, M. C. Roll, of this city.

Wedding Anniversary Deserter Is Charged

Claiming to have been deserted by her husband on their sixth wedding anniversary, Mrs. Louise Pillsbury today had filed suit in the superior court here for separate maintenance, naming William H. Pillsbury as defendant.

The Pillsburys were married October 1, 1903, and that date, six years later, is given as the time the alleged desertion occurred.

Mrs. Pillsbury asserts that her husband is worth $30,000, but that he has not contributed to her support or that of their two sons, aged 19 and 17.

LIGHTWEIGHTS ALL SET FOR BIG BOUT

Leonard and Tendler End Training; Champion
Still Favorite

(By United Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, July 20.—Benny Leonard and Lew Tendler, who are to battle here Monday night for the world's lightweight championship will knock off their training tonight.

Leonard plans to return to his mother's apartment up in Harlem
and Tendler will return to his home
in Philadelphia to await the first official act of the program, which comes with the weighing in at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Some concern is felt about Leonard's ability to make the weight but Billy Gibson, his manager, said today that the champion was under 135 pounds now and that he would not fill out too much before the day of the fight.

Leonard, who makes good use of his talking mechanism in and out of the ring, has been directing verbal shots at the Philadelphia challenger from his training camp
up in the Catskills.

There is no press agent stuff in the story that there is little love
lost between Tendler and Leonard.
The falling out came when Tendler grabbed a $5,000 forfeit after Leonard had broken his hand and could not go through with a bout scheduled in Philadelphia some time back. It is understood that Tendler returned the forfeit money, recently.

All of the experts who have looked over the champion in training say that he seems to be in perfect condition. His two fights with Pinkey Mitchell and Alex Hart apparently got him back on edge after his hitch on the stage last winter.
Tendler, according to those who have seen the challenger, is also
in good physical and mental fettle.
The Philadelphia southpaw claims that while Leonard may have found out a lot about his left handed fighting in their last meeting that he himself has learned how to close his ears and hear nothing
when Benny starts his monologue
in the ring.

STAGE ALL SET FOR BEACH RING EVENTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 20
—With the stage set for the gong
to start the fighters on their way
tonight at the local arena, the fans
of Huntington Beach were waiting impatiently for the melees to begin. The curtain raises is scheduled to get under way about 8:15
p. m. with Tommy Aguerre of the oil city, and Bennie LeRoy, of Los Angeles, set for a real fight.

Babe Orton, of Anaheim, and Kid Mack, of Los Angeles, will furnish the excitement in the second event.

The third event will see Harry Lee, life guard at Huntington Beach and Hank Gaitton, of Santa Ana, mixing it.

A rare treat is offered the fans
in the battle between Battling Hoppe of Huntington Beach and Packy Flynn of Los Angeles.
Hoppe is small but he sure is there with the goods. While the beach fans will back up their idol to the utmost, friends of Flynn say that Hoppe will have his hands full.

Ted Frenchie, colored, of Los Angeles and Louie Alverado of San Diego will tangle in the semiwindup. They weigh in at 153 pounds. Frenchie knocked out Harry Lee in a recent battle,
which Lee claims was an accident.
He is also aching for a return bout with the boy from the city and if he gets it there should be a good fight.

Jack McDonald of Seattle will take his spite out on Sam Isman
of Los Angeles in the main event
if he has his way about the matter. For the past week he has been working out at the local arena and is in perfect condition for the affair. McDonald knocked out Ernie Sales of Minneapolis in the second round of his bout in the preliminaries at Shelby.

Pipe Smoking Runs In Dawes Family

WASHINGTON, July 20.—It runs in the family.
Charles G. Dawes, of "Hell and Maria" fame, made the black briar pipe equally famous while he was in Washington previous to a year ago as organizer and director of the budget bureau. Wherever Dawes went his black briar pipe
went with him even to the White House on occasions of state functions.

A few weeks ago Dawes' brother,
Henry M. Dawes, came to Washington as comptroller of the currency. And any day in his office at the treasury, on the street or
at his club, he may be seen pulling with extreme satisfaction, on a French briar as black as his brother's famous pipe.

Bear Hunting in Alaska

These articles, which will appear in the sporting page of The Register, were written by George B. Figgis, well known Santa Ana captalist and sportsman, who recently returned from the far north on a hunting trip.

23rd., 10:00 a. m.—Here we are at White Rock, where we saw the three bear, waiting for afternoon to go ashore for a hunt. Wonderful day, only a little too hot aboard
the boat. One must understand that at this time of year, bear feed
from about 3 to 8 a. m. and from 4 to 10 p. m. Later at night and during the middle of the day they climb the mountains to about the snow line to lay down and sleep.
This is about the usual program,
but individual bear vary in habits.

Later on, I am told, by natives and whites, the bear change habits
so they may be seen feeding or on the beach at any time. Then when fish begin to run strong, Mr. Bear begins to feed evenings and mornings again, sleeping in middle of day.

Our one best bet, if weather
gives us sunshine is a bear here
today or tomorrow—so here's hoping for luck.

24th.—Was afternoon 23rd., a lucky day? Well, I don't really know so I'm going to relate the circumstances as I saw them and let you judge. Got tired laying around aboard boat so went ashore about three to get nicely located and watch the flat. We felt our trip up Tanakoe Arm had been a failure and wanted to be on the hunt again. Concluded it would cover more territory if I went through the neck of woods
and watched a park above and up
the creek, with understanding that if bear showed up to Bailey
he was to come for me but if they appeared in my section, I would open up without him. About seven o'clock, our time, I heard a low whistle (Bailey knew approximately but not exactly where I was) which I answered and he said in a low voice that magic one word, BEAR.

He hurried back and when I joined him it was about a minute
before the bear showed again at about 1000 yards coming down
the mountain, through the brush.
While we watched it was revealed
there were three instead of one.
Our understanding was if more than two showed in one bunch, he could join in the sport, always leaving the big or largest ones
for me.

It's cold in this country in the early mornings and late afternoons, with mountains snow-covered. Being inactive for several hours, we generally put on all the clothes we can get into. On my way to join Bailey I was taking off
some of my stuff which task I completed when I got to him. I was then down to shirt, pants, cap and hip boots and, believe me, before I got within shooting range I was sweating and steaming. Our stalk lay across an open flat with a considerable river to cross. Our protection, when we had any, was occasional natural little low places

and dead grass stems of the year before.

We took advantage of every protection, bending over and almost crawling. The going couldn't have been very fast yet it seemed to me
we were traveling at too fast a gait
to have good shooting wind and to Bailey's "hurry" I said "Cut this rush—I want shooting wind when I get there." The far bank of the stream was our objective and while moving an waist deep generally we came to where it widened. A dead stump gave me a good vantage point. I waited a minute to get my wind and then peered over to see the big bear feeding and the two 14 or 15 months old cubs, one feeding, the other waiting to play.

These cubs at this age are as large as our ordinary black bear. I tried my sight to see if I was rested enough for steady shot. I told Bailey he could take the cub nearest to the mother while I would take the old bear and other cub.
I then wormed my way up the bank and behind the butt of the stump and took a sitting rest. She was facing me, quartering and I aimed at the point of the shoulder, shooting at about 140 yards. At the shot the old bear dropped, bit
at her shoulder and rolled down
a little bank where she was feeding. A second later Bailey shot and the cub went with its mother.

I then turned to the cub on the extreme right, which had not moved, and the shot knocked it down. Keeping my eye open for a movement I said to Bailey, or half to myself, "that's getting them" and he replied, "Gee whiz—
pretty" when up came the old bear on three legs closely followed by the cub.

Immediately after the second shot I had started to run up so that when she appeared I was probably 80 yards away. Going nearer, straight then quartering,
my next shot raked her forward
and down she went again just as Bailey knocked the cub down and I looked to see my cub standing up on its hind legs. I dropped it as it was facing me and at the same time my vision caught the old bear
walking upright on her hind legs, quartering but not facing us and gee, she looked big. Running in all the time I half caught Bailey's warning "Look out—don't get too close" when it occurred to me I must put the big bear down for good or she would get into the brush. I was close enough to note the angry snarl of her nose,
the blood from her side, one shoulder broken and hanging down and uttering some kind of little cough or cracking her teeth together.

She bulked a mighty big target
at the distance, about eight feet tall, walking erect slowly. I took time to place the shot in a line between her shoulders and about the center of her breast and down
she went in a heap. "That settles her for good," I said just as the two cubs again got to their feet, his going straight away,
mine at about 40 yards, running not very fast, broadside on with her left shoulder dangling.

Following it with the head a jump or two, I shot and this time I remarked, "well Bailey, there's mine down for keeps at last,"
when imagine my surprise to see the big one, half walking half dragging itself into the brush, going straight away. Advancing all the time while shooting I was now within twenty or twenty-five steps
of her and of course, couldn't miss.
The first shot didn't seem to have any effect but the second slowed her down. I knew she couldn't go far with that pounding and started to cautiously follow when I heard her bawl and a moment
later, near the same place, she again made the same sound. Bailey says they make this sound when they are all in.

Just as I was going into the brush he said "Not that way—this way better." I joined him with the remark "We have raised hell, Bailey. Out of three bear down all we are sure of is that cub of mine."
"No, no we get'm all," he said,
and I felt so myself, my remark
having been made more as a feel-
er. We started in to that tangle of down timber and brush, going abreast about five feet apart.
About ten feet in was a mass of blood and while it was intensely interesting and jumpy work, the trail was impossible to lose. If she had much fight left in her,
shooting would have to be done at close quarters. This is where I really consider the danger comes following a wounded bear. They switch off a little and lay in wait—
a rush and no clear shooting space
—well, such a condition is serious and sport enough for most any hunter.

off until tomorrow, saying where they lay down or stopped they would die and that there was no question about finding them.

I note none of the natives or whites I have hunted with up here
care to get close to these wounded bear, not scared but timid. I am no braver than they but my method is this: Use caution in the brush but in the open get in close because the closer you are the more accurately you shoot and I believe the 35-90, 250 gr. bullet, or 30 Gov. 220 gr. 06, will either put them off their feet or slow them up every time they are hit.

I took occasion to ask Bailey, after the killing, his version of the shooting and it was the same as mine. We both agree his cub went into the brush before its mother
and that she would not have gone
in or left the cub until she thought it safe. We didn't think there was a chance in the world for the cubs
to get away so we went to the boat
at nine to be up for a cup of coffee
next morning at four. Watched for bear at seven then went over and skinned out the old one. My but she was shot up. We then started for our cubs.

TEMPLE—"Nero."

"NERO," MARVELOUS
SPECTACLE OF ANCIENT ROME, BEGINS AT TEMPLE

Roman history in its most spectacular days lives again in the William Fox wonder picture, "Nero," which will commence an engagement of three days at the Temple Theatre tonight.

Nero, the villain of the super-spectacle, was the original Roman high-roller. He not only "burned the candle at both ends," but set fire to the city as well. Invested with the imperial purple at the age of sixteen, inside of fifteen years he had exhausted all the pleasures of Rome—then mistress of the civilized world—and had become so unpopular that he killed himself to escape his own troops.

The strangest part of it that Nero had been brought up in the strict old Roman school, which scorned all luxury and idealized a soldier's life. However, Nero possessed the "artistic temperament." He studied music, painting, sculpture and poetry, and fancied himself as a singer. In vain his mother, Agrippina, tried to keep him to the old Roman traditions, and early married him to an aristocratic lady. Nero fell in love with a beautiful Asiatic freedwoman, and when his mother
his wife in order to marry his sweetheart, he rebelled and sent both his wife and mother into exile.
Soon Nero forgot Acte for Poppaea Sabina, who belonged to one of the great Roman families, but was even wicked and more unscrupulous than the emperor. Ignoring the fact that she already had a husband, Poppaea schemed boldly to ensnare Nero.

In one of the sensational scenes of "Nero" is shown how she literally threw herself at the emperor, who thereupon sent her husband a jeweled dagger, with the suggestion that he kill himself with it. But Otho went into exile and hid his time until he could return the dagger to Nero. He was one of the conspirators who elected Galba emperor, and it was fear of this dagger—among many others
which he had whetted for himself
—which prompted Nero to take his own life.

SCHOOLDAY HUMOR
IN "THE CRITICAL AGE"
AT YOST'S SUNDAY.

Everybody likes to talk over their school days, the pranks they used to play, the teachers they used to have and the good times they experienced. There are few people that do not enjoy seeing upon the screen, scenes reminiscent of this important part of life. In "The Critical Age," a picturization of Ralph Connor's popular novel,
"Glenarry School days," appearing at the Yost theatre next Sunday,
there is every opportunity for the older folks, and the young ones too, to see some exceptionally humorous scenes of schooldays.

While it is not primarily a "schoolday" story, yet this is one of the important parts of the picture and supplies many a rich laugh
as well as moments of suspense
and pathos.

It is promised to bring back vividly to mind the many pranks we all used to play and the things that we did during our schooldays.

"THE MAN NEXT DOOR"
SHOWS SCENES ON BIG CATTLE RANCH.

Striking scenes of a great cattle ranch are shown in "The Man Next Door," by Emerson Hough, author of "The Covered Wagon," which will be seen at the Temple theatre
next week. Thousands of cattle are used in making shots showing the life on a great Wyoming ranch
where Emerson Hough laid his story.

Miss Calhoun plays Bonnie Bell
Wright, daughter of the wealthy cattleman, who has been reared among cowpunchers and who knows how to shoot, ride and rope. One of the cowboys at the Palo Verde Ranch, where the exterior scenes were shot, taught her how to lasso.

Dispense With Part of Pension Employees

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The department of the interior made a material reduction in the number of employees of the pension bureau July 1. One entire section, known as the "congressional section," employing a force of thirty clerks for the purpose of answering correspondence from members of congress, was abolished and this work was divided among other divisions. The services of 119 temporary employees also were terminated. Most of them were employed under a special act of congress
for the purpose of catching up with back work. Since March, 1921, the bureau of pensions has not only succeeded in cleaning up 155,- 000 accumulated pension claims, but it also has kept up with current work. Of the amount appropriated by congress for this work, the bureau turned back into the treasury $55,000.

ORDINANCE NO. 726

An Ordinance Establishing Water Rates in the City of Santa Ana, and Prescribing Rules and Regulations Governing Consumption of Water, and Fixing a Penalty for the Violation Thereof.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana do ordain as follows, to-wit:

The City of Santa Ana shall charge and collect in advance for each meter and attachment made with its system of water works as follows:

For each 1/2" service $10.00
For each 3/4" service $15.00
For each 1" service $20.00
For each 1 1/4" service $25.00
For each 1 1/2" service $30.00
For each 2" service $35.00
For each 2 1/2" service $40.00
For each 3" service $45.00
For each 4" service $50.00
For each 6" service $65.00
In addition to above shall be charged the City of Santa Ana will charge and collect in advance, the cost of meter installed on all services larger than 1/2".

The monthly rates to be collected by the City of Santa Ana for water supplied to its water works, to consumers, shall be as follows:

METERS
For each 1/2" meter for residence, the consumer shall pay a minimum monthly rate of $1.25 per 1000 cubic feet, and 1 1/2" cents per 1000 cubic feet for all water used in excess thereof. Each person paying a minimum monthly rate of $1.25 per 1000 cubic feet of water for domestic use only, shall be entitled to a credit in water for the unused portion of the 1000 feet so allowed. The credit, however, shall be carried forward from year to year. Credit is not transferable.

All rates other than domestic, where 1/2" meter is installed, shall be $1.25 per month minimum, with no credit provided however, that all persons or firms using 100,000 cubic feet of water within a year, shall be entitled to a discount of 25%.

FLAT RATES
All water services where no meter is installed, shall pay a monthly rate of $1.25, payable in advance, and no credits allowed.

All schools shall pay a minimum of $1.25 per month, less a discount of 25% for no credits.

Parking and filling stations must not use water for any other purpose than for said parking and filling stations. For any additional service for such parking and filling stations, application must be made to the water office.

PROTECTION OF SERVICE
For any house or building where water heaters of any description are used, the owner shall have a check valve installed on City water line service pipe, to protect meters and City service mains.

FIRE SERVICES
No fire line shall be used for any purpose other than for the extinguishing of fire, unless the same be equipped with a meter, in which event the regular rates shall be charged, together with cost of meter. Where fire line is used for fire purposes only the owner shall pay for all repairs to service, from main to City curb cocks. Upon failure to pay said charges, water will be shut off until such charge is paid.

Fire hydrants are provided for the sole purpose of extinguishing fires, and shall be opened and used only by the Water Department. No person or persons as may be authorized to do so by the Water Department.

All persons using water through fire hydrants, or other hydrant owned or controlled by the City of Santa Ana, shall be required to obtain a permit so to do from the Water Department, which shall issue no such permit to any person who has violated any of the provisions of these rules, or whose indebtedness to the City of Santa Ana for water used, or damage to hydrants, is delinquent.

All persons permitted to open fire hydrants, will be required to replace caps on the outlets when the same are not in use. Failure to do so will be sufficient cause to prohibit further use of the hydrant, and the refusal to grant subsequent permits for the use of such fire hydrants.

METERS TO REMAIN PROPERTY OF THE CITY

All water meters installed by the Water Department at all times shall remain the property of the Water Department, and where replacements, repairs or adjustments are required, the same shall be made by the Water Department, and the cost thereof shall be charged against the consumer.

All persons permitted to open fire hydrants, will be required to replace caps on the outlets when the same are not in use. Failure to do so will be sufficient cause to prohibit further use of the hydrant, and the refusal to grant subsequent permits for the use of such fire hydrants.

CIRCUSES, SHOWS, ETC.
All circuses, shows or exhibitions, using water from the mains of the City of Santa Ana, shall make application for such water at the office of the Water Department, and shall pay in advance therefor the sum of $10.00 per day.

DEMAND FOR METER TEST
Any consumer may demand that the meter through which water is being furnished, be examined and tested by said Water Department, for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not it is registering correctly the amount of water which is being delivered through it. Such demand shall be made in writing to the Water Department, and shall be accompanied by a deposit of the amount charged for the various sizes, to-wit:

For testing a 1/2" meter $1.25
For testing a 3/4" meter $1.50
For testing a 1" meter $1.75
For testing a 1 1/4" meter $2.00
For testing a 1 1/2" meter $2.25
For testing a 2" meter $2.50
For testing a 2 1/2" meter $2.75
For testing a 3" meter $3.00
For testing a 4" meter $3.25
For testing a 6" meter $3.50

Upon receipt of such demand, it shall be the duty of the Water Department to cause the meter to be examined and tested, for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not it is registering correctly the amount of water which is being delivered through it. If on examination and test the meter shall be found to register over three per cent more water than actually passes through it, another meter shall be substituted therefor, and the fee so charged shall be repaid to the person making the application, and the water bill for the current period adjusted in such manner as the Water Department may deem fair and just. If the meter shall be found to register under three per cent, the same shall be replaced, and the fee so charged shall be forfeited to the City, and the water bills paid as rendered.

CHANGE OF LOCATION
Any person desiring to change the location of a meter, or one that has already been installed, shall make application to the City Water Department, and upon payment of $5.00 to cover cost of same, the Water Department will cause change to be made. Where it is necessary to protect meters from damage by trucks or trucks in drive-ways where meters are located, a charge of $10.00 will be made to cover cost of heavy cast iron meter box.

CUTTING PAVEMENT
When necessary to cut pavement in making a water connection larger than 1/2", a charge of $10.00 will be made in addition to installation charge. Said $10.00 to be paid into Street Fund to cover repairs to said street.

APPLICATIONS
All applications for water must be made by the owner of the property, or his authorized agent, at the office of the Water Department in the City Hall, and signed by the person making such application.

All water rates are due and payable at the office of the Water Department in the City Hall, on the first day of each month. If not paid by the 5th day of the month, a notice will be sent to each consumer of water. If not paid on or before the 26th day of the month, a penalty of 10 cents will be added to each bill. If still unpaid on the 26th day of the month, the water will be shut off from the premises where such delinquency occurs, and shall remain so shut off until all rates, fines, and penalties have been paid.

The City of Santa Ana shall have the right at any time, and at any point, to put in a water meter, and may force the collection for the amount of water that shall be used, in accordance with all the Ordinances, rules and regulations of said City, governing the consumption of water, and for that purpose, and at any time, go upon the premises of the consumer of water.

There shall be a stop-cock in every attachment on the sidewalks, just inside the curb, at a point to be designated by said City, said stop-cock and its box shall be supplied by the City, and shall be for its exclusive use, and under its exclusive control.

The City will not be responsible for damages to buildings or their contents, from any break beyond the street service box; the water consumers are hereby required, for their own protection to provide at their own expense, another stop-cock to be placed at the first suitable point beyond the street service box.

Legal Notice

APPLICATION FOR WATER MAINS ON NEW SUBDIVISIONS

Applicants who are owners of a new subdivision or tract of land, and who desire water service and fire protection thereon, where there are no water mains or fire hydrants in the streets in front of such subdivision or tract of land, may make application to have water mains and fire hydrants laid in same. Such mains and fire hydrants shall be of such size and kind as the Superintendent of the Water Department shall determine will properly supply said tract, having due regard to the requirements of adjacent lands, and of the growth of the city. The applicants shall be required to pay cash in advance into the Water Department for the total estimated cost of such mains, and for such fire hydrants, valves and gate boxes as may be required by the proper City authority—such cost to be determined by the Superintendent of the Water Department, who shall thereupon install said mains, fire hydrants, valves and gate boxes; however, that said applicant or applicants have complied with all other requirements of the said Water Department.

REFUND ON EXTENSIONS
It is understood that all mains installed become at once and remain the sole property of the City of Santa Ana. The City of Santa Ana, however, will, in every case, refund in cash, as hereinafter provided, the advance payment for the installation of mains, fire hydrants, valves and gate boxes. A record will be kept of the total estimated cost of mains, fire hydrants, valves and gate boxes installed, in pursuance of said cash payment. For every bona fide permanent water user who has been connected directly to said water mains, but not including any extension thereof, the City will refund, in the manner hereinafter provided, the cost of installing said mains, fire hydrants, valves and gate boxes as estimated.

The applicant or applicants, as well as all other users on said main or mains, will be required to pay the water bills rendered. The Water Department will refund to such applicants, for a period of four years, all receipts for water from said main or mains, but not from any extension thereof. Said refunds will be made semi-annually, and demands therefor will be audited at the regular meetings of the Board of Trustees as a finance committee in June and August of each year.

The total refund will not be greater in any event than the total amount contributed.

NUMBER OF APPLICANTS
More than one applicant may join in an application, and water mains, fire hydrants, valves and gate boxes will be extended in a similar manner as above.

CONTRACT FOR EXTENSION
A contract embodying these provisions shall be signed by the Superintendent of the Water Department, and all of the original applicants (if more than one applicant join in said cash advance to the City). The City of Santa Ana will make no refunds to any other than said party or parties to the contract, or to his or their assignee duly registered on said contract; and such refunds will be made upon monthly charges only, not on service charges.

CONDITION OF REFUNDS
No refunds will be made on any mains smaller than four inches. The City may require mains larger than the necessities of said tract or said street, if in the judgment of the Superintendent of the Water Department, such is required by the needs of adjoining or other sections, and such larger mains must be installed as herein provided.

No refunds will be made for consumers other than those connecting directly on said mains. In case other mains are installed, or connected to said mains, no refunds will be made to the original contributor for services attached to said mains.

When the supply of water has been turned off for a violation of any ordinance, or of any rule, regulation or requirement of said City, governing consumers of water, it will not be turned on again except upon payment of the amount due, together with an additional sum of one dollar, which is hereby made a penalty for a failure to pay the said rate and to pay said City for the turning on of water again.

In all cases where water is supplied to several tenants from a connection or tap, the City contracts only with the owner of the property or his authorized agent, and such contracts comply with these regulations and pay the rate, the service will be discontinued until regulations are complied with and rate paid.

Contractors, or anyone desiring to use water in construction work, must make application at water office for same. A meter will then be installed, and the regular rate charged, with a discount. Failure to pay the bill as rendered will be sufficient cause to prohibit the further use of water until all delinquent bills are paid.

Consumers must prevent all waste of water, and keep their service pipes, fixtures, stop-cocks and other apparatus (but not the service put in and owned by the City) in good repair, and free from leakage, and be liable for all damages which may result from their failure to comply with this rule.

Water rates will be charged for premises vacated, in every instance, until the City shall have been notified of the discontinuance of the use of water, and to turn the water off. Any authorized employee of the City Water Department shall be admitted at all reasonable hours, to all parts of the premises supplied with water, to see that the regulations are observed.

No one except an authorized employee of the Water Works shall turn the water on or off from any building or premises at City curb cock, or in any manner whatever, meddle with or interfere with any part of the Water Works of the City of Santa Ana.

No person or family supplied with water by the Santa Ana Water Works, shall be allowed to use the same for any purpose other than that reported to the City in the application for water, nor in any way to supply water to other persons or families, or more than one lot 50 ft. x 150 ft. from a single service.

All faucets, sprinklers, hose, nozzles or other continuous streams must be shut off promptly upon the alarm of fire—the water not to be turned on again until the fire is known to be extinguished.

No person shall place on or about any hydrant or curb-cock connected with the pipes of the Santa Ana Water Works, any building material or other obstruction, so as to prevent free access to the same.

The City is responsible for damage caused by the breaking of any pipe or service cock, or for any other interruption of service, or for any injury to machinery or stoppage for necessary repairs.

The City reserves the right at any time to shut off the water in their mains for the purpose of making extensions or repairs, or for other purposes, and all persons having boilers within their premises, not supplied with tanks or cisterns, but depending upon the pipes of the City Water Department to keep them supplied, are hereby cautioned against danger of collapse.

Any person, firm or corporation, violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in the court of jurisdiction, shall be fined not more than fifty dollars, or be imprisoned in the City Jail for not exceeding twenty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict with this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

The City Clerk shall certify to the passage and approval of this Ordinance, and cause the same to be printed and published three times in the Santa Ana Daily Evening Register, and thereupon, and thirty days thereafter, it shall take effect and be in force.

The above Ordinance was passed and adopted and approved this 726 day of July, 1923, by the following vote:

Ayes, Trustees Geo. McPhee, Nat H. Neff, C. L. Killen, J. W. Tubbs. Noes, Trustee C. H. Chapman. Approved this 16th day of July, 1923.

President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana, California.

I hereby certify that the foregoing Ordinance was passed and approved by the Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana, California, on the 16th day of July, 1923.

(SEAL) E. L. VEGEL, City Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of the Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana, California.

Practical Notes on the S. S. Lesson

Prepared for The Register by Cal. Ogburn

Lesson for July 22, Luke 9:49-56;

John 19:25-27; 1 John 4:7, 8, JOHN THE APOSTLE.

"Master, we saw one casting out demons in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us."—v. 49. John was intolerant. Perhaps he thought he was very loyal to Christ. But he wasn't. John stood so straight that he leaned over. There are too many like him. One such person would be that one too many. No man is a Christian, no matter how "orthodox" he may be, who is not broader-minded than the sect to which he belongs. If that sect does not from principle condemn every thing that is being done for the betterment of the world,

There was some excuse for John's intolerance, if such a sin ever is excusable. He had been reared in a small town, which, probably, as many towns of a few hundred inhabitants, was noted for the provincial character of public opinion; and certainly he was living in a most intolerant age. Furthermore John was a Jew, and the Jews of his time were the victims, so to speak, of their ultra pharisaical teachers. Tolerance, catholicity, equal rights for all, the brotherhood of man, these and words and phrases of similar significance were practically unknown. The heaven of Christ's revolutionary teaching had not yet begun to work.

But there is no excuse now for following John's example of intolerance—not in this day and country. The precepts of Christ, familiar to or easy of access to all, will not permit it. Therefore be glad that good is being done by those of every sect, creed, party and religion, and also by those who hold allegiance to no religious organization. The man who, in his way, is casting out demons could not do any better—and maybe not as well—if you did get him to say "Shibboleth" as you say it.

And as long as he is succeeding so admirably, really what difference does it make whether or not he even tries to pronounce "Shibboleth" at all, with the accent, emphasis and inflection that you give it? It is what he is doing that counts, and not that he answers at roll-call next after you.

If John could have had his way, he would have had the demon-possessed continue to suffer all the torment of the damned, rather than that they should be healed by one who was not of his party!

And maybe you are entertaining much the same spirit. Remember that it ever was carefully. Let us see. Are you really glad because the "unorthodox" are casting out demons? Well, the "acid test" of your gladness is in going to them and frankly telling them "how glad you are." Have you done that?

"Lord, wilt thou that we bid fire come down from heaven, and consume them?"—v. 54. We read in John 4:9 that "Jews have no dealings with Samaritans." There was enmity of long standing between Jews and Samaritans, based on racial and religious prejudice. The Samaritans were not of pure Israelitish blood, and religiously they were "unorthodox." The Samaritans of a certain village refused to receive Jesus, because his face was as though he were going to Jerusalem.

It was no great wrong, if needed any at all, of which these Samaritans were guilty. They merely withheld from Jesus and his disciples the hospitality that was due.

BEGIN WORK ON LINE SOON IS CLAIM MADE

NEWPORT BEACH, July 20.—"We have ordered our steel pipe and considerable other equipment for the installation of our pipe line from Huntington Beach to the Newport pier, and expect to begin operations as soon as the franchise is accepted by the city."

This statement was made today by Thomas W. Simmons of San Francisco, head of the large firm of oil importers, who expect to operate the oil pipe line, as proposed to the City trustees of Newport Beach.

Mr. Simmons, through his attorney, L. A. West, presented the only bid received by the board, and which asked for a 40-year franchise to operate pipe line in and through the city of Newport Beach.

Details Alone Remain
In order to correct an erroneous impression that the city had delayed action in granting the franchise because it was said certain specifications had not been adhered to, it was stated that the only reason for delay was because all details of the lease and franchise had not been worked out and that it would take at least a week to put same in shape.

City Attorney Clyde Bishop stated that a very satisfactory conference had been had with the oil line people. He also declared that the Simmons interests, having made the only bid for the franchise, that the door to further bidding was closed and that the city could now legally continue the matter of granting the franchise until the lease was satisfactory to all parties.

Lumber Lease Near
In this connection the city attorney also declared that satisfactory progress had been made with lumber lease on the same wharf and that both the oil and lumber interests had virtually agreed to the rules and regulations of the city and to work in harmony with each other for the best method of handling the loading and unloading of commodities.

MOVIE COMPANY AT ORANGE ON MONDAY

ORANGE, July 20.—Having fixed a definite date for arrival in Orange, the Golden Film company, through Jack M. Voshell, production manager, today officially announced that the unit which is to photograph mob scenes in the city will arrive early Monday morning, remaining two days.

Voshell, in a long distance phone conversation, stated that the dates for Orange have been definitely fixed for July 23-24.

"Our plans for coming to Orange July 18-19 were merely tentative, being fixed in advance so that we could give your city council an idea as to the approximate time we would arrive," Voshell said.

"Things developed at the studio which prevented our appearance on those dates, but we have now determined the definite dates and we will positively be there at that time."

The unit, coming here, is under the direction of Tod Browning, noted Goldenwyn motion picture director, who will be assisted by Erroll Taggart, assistant director.

Orange's circular plaza, famed beauty spot, and the Rochester hotel, built during the boom days, will be the scenes of the action, according to Voshell, who is due here tomorrow to complete arrangements.

The "scenes" are to be "shot" in connection with the filming of "The Day of Faith" from the novel by Arthur Somers Roche.

The story deals with the millennium and the effect of eighteen days of perfect harmony in the world and is adapted for the screen by Katherine Kavanaugh.

According to Voshell, one thousand extras are to take part in the mob scenes while nearly a dozen stars, including Eleanor Boardman, star of "Souls for Sale," Tyrone Power, noted stage star; Raymond Griffith, star lead in "Red Lights"; Wallace MacDonald, who takes a leading role in "The Spoilers"; and Ford Sterling, famed screen comedian, will play the leading roles.

"We will use four hundred people on the first day," he said, "and one thousand on the final day."

SWIMMING RACES OFF PIER PLANNED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 19.—A special exhibition of diving and surf swimming, high diving, sand board diving, and exhibition Red Cross work will be held at the pier and from the pier every Sunday at 2:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Prof. R. J. Finer, swimming instructor at the pier.

Prof. Finer has in his classes some of the best swimmers and divers on the Pacific coast and his exhibitions will be well worth watching.

At intervals during the summer months it is the plan to hold races and diving contests with prizes and medals to go to the winners.

Wintersburg, Smeltzer

WINTERSBURG ANN SMELTZER, July 19.—Late word from Rev. and Mrs. J. Scott Willmarth and two children, who are spending the month of July at San Jose, where the Rev. Mr. Willmarth is teaching at the College of the Pacific for the period, tells of a very enjoyable life, of camping on the college campus and other pleasant features. Mrs. Willmarth also intimates that she might employ a part of her time profitably by attending some of the classes while there.

A card received Monday by Mr. Hadley from his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Hadley, who two weeks ago left with a party of friends on a trip into the northern part of this state gives their present location as Oregon. Upon gaining the northern boundary the temptation to extend their trip into Oregon to see relatives was too great, so they will all probably not be home for a few weeks yet. Mr. Hadley's uncle, Mr. Whetstone, of Santa Ana, is taking his place on the Hadley ranch during his absence and is remaining at the Hadley home.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Helling are at home following a week's outing to Yosemite park. The trip was made in company with Mrs. Helling's mother, Mrs. Minnie Allen, sister, Miss Cleo Allen, and brother, William Allen, and Mr. Helling's sister, Miss Ethel Helling, of Santa Ana. The party of six made the trip in a seven-passenger car, taking camp equipment with them and had a splendid time. The four-hundred miles from the park home was made in a twenty-hour continuous drive.

Mrs. A. M. Roberson is entertaining at her home for a few days two old Ohio friends, Mrs. S. K. Wheatlake and her daughter, Mrs. Olive Jennings. The ladies are now residents of Denver, Colo., and are spending a vacation in this state.

Prof. and Mrs. Boydon Hall and two children of Covina, spent Friday until Sunday at the home of Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Worthy, of this place.

Miss Jessie House of Santa Paula, who has been the house guest of her aunt, Mrs. C. H. Madoux, went Sunday to Anaheim to visit a sister, Mrs. Burs.

Mr. and Mrs. Everette Stockton entertained as weekend guests at their home Mrs. Stockton's brother, Joe, and his wife, Mrs. Costa Mesa, and on Sunday the mother and another brother, George Friend and family of Corona, joined the family group for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Schwiering, of Rock Springs, Wyo., were Sunday guests at the J. W. Soden home, have motored over from Long Beach, where they are staying temporarily. Mr. Schwiering, who is superintendent of schools in Wyoming, leaves within a week on his return and his wife will follow later. Miss Ethel Soden, who is spending the summer with her parents, teaches under Mr. Schwiering in the Rock Springs schools.

The old sidewalks at the Wintersburg church have been repaved and the new cement walks were completed Tuesday. A start was also made the latter part of the week on the interior decorating at the parsonage and work on the church is to begin this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ulrich and daughter, Miss Cleo Ulrich, left the past week for a vacation at San Juan Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Chapman motored over to Signal Hill Sunday morning to see the Union well, which has been an active geyser for some days.

Miss Lucille Soden left Monday morning in company with Miss Edith Coburn of Huntington Beach for Pacific Palisades, where they are attending the Epworth league institute now convening.

Mrs. J. J. Graham spent Friday at Long Beach with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Walter Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodard of Smeltzer, attended the junk races on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham visited recently at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Virgil Lyons, at Puente.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Moore and Miss Alice Willmarth, who has been spending a few days at their home, went to Los Angeles Sunday as overnight guests of Mrs. Moore's daughter, Mrs. Grace Collins. On Monday the Moores motored home by way of the Santa Monica Palisades, where Miss Alice will remain for the week in attendance at the Epworth league institute.

Mrs. Lloyd Edwards entertained at her home on Monday her sister, Mrs. Charles Walton, and small son and daughter of Westminster.

Grand Jury Report Inspected by Wife Of Indicted Artist

NEW YORK, July 20.—Largely as a result of the loyalty of his wife, Mrs. Margaret Maxwell, George Maxwell, head of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, has been given the right to inspect the minutes of the grand jury which indicted him last April on the charge of sending poison pen letters to Allan R. Ryan. Judge McIntyre today granted the motion for the inspection which was made by Nathan Bukhan and former Judge Robert S. Johnston Monday. As a result of getting the right of inspection a motion will be made in a short time for dismissal of the indictment against Maxwell.

ROPE FACTORY IN ORANGE IS ANNOUNCED

ORANGE, July 20.—Signaling Orange's new "million dollar" industrial district, comprehensive plans were announced today for the erection of a $125,000 manila rope factory to be known as the Western Cordage company.

A companion to the California Wire company and the California Cordage company, the new plant promises to complete the "Big Three" of the new industrial district, which with its unlimited possibilities, is attracting widespread attention from industrial sources.

Site Selected.
A site with a 650 foot frontage on the Santa Fe railroad and a depth of 132 feet has been purchased by the factory people.

Work on the first unit of the factory plant, which will cost $125,000, will be started within the next thirty days. This includes a single story brick building, 100x120 feet, and a warehouse, 40x60 feet, modeled somewhat after the California Cordage factory.

The factory, it was announced, will furnish employment to fifty men with an annual payroll of $40,000. The first unit will have a production capacity of approximately 1,000,000 pounds of rope.

The company was formed after continued conferences between the local chamber of commerce industrial committee and O. B. Eller and J. G. Knight, formerly at the head of the Canada-Western Cordage company of British Columbia.

Organization has been completed and a charter for a nominal capitalization has been applied for with indications that all preliminary steps will be completed within a short time.

Officers and Directors.
The officers and directors include O. B. Eller, president; Fred A. Grote, vice president; J. G. Knight, secretary; Fred H. Alden, treasurer, and Louis Koth, director.

The men at the head of the venture have already assured the financial success of the project by subscribing to a large portion of the necessary capitalization. The remaining portion, it was stated, is to be offered to the public, especially to citizens interested in the development of Orange industrially.

Eller and Knight, who were induced to locate the factory in Orange through the efforts of Fred A. Grote, chairman of the industrial committee of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce, are prominent in the rope manufacturing business, having operated a factory at Westminster, B. C., for three years with wonderful success.

In checking over the field, Mr. Eller declared that at the present time there is no factory of this kind south of San Francisco, and only three on the coast.

"A temporary survey of the market for rope such as we will manufacture," Mr. Eller said, "shows that there is a yearly demand for more than 10,000,000 pounds in Southern California alone. The output of the local plant for the first year will represent only about one-tenth of the amount consumed in and around Los Angeles."

ALUMINUM SHOWER IS CLUB BENEFIT

COSTA MESA, July 20.—One of the most novel and unusual parties ever held in Costa Mesa was given at the home of Miss Alice C. Plummer Friday.

Held in the form of an afternoon "affair" with each guest receiving an aluminum pan, the party almost resembled an "aluminum shower."

Many prominent women from Newport Beach attended the afternoon affair. The aluminum company which sponsored the affair offered an additional prize of twenty cents for each woman present. As a result of this novel scheme, a neat sum was realized by the Women's Friday Afternoon club.

COSTA MESA CLUB WILL GIVE DANCE

COSTA MESA, July 20.—The Costa Mesa Friday Afternoon club will give another one of their famous Saturday night dances July 21. Chapman's orchestra will furnish the music. The dance is for the benefit of the club house fund.

Man With Big Fish On Line Is Drowned

DETROIT, Mich., July 20.—"Drowned by a fish" has been written by local authorities opposite the name of Lawrence Wimberly, 37, who met death in St. Clair river.

Wimberly, accompanied by George B. Horrell, rowed to the middle of the stream, dropped a fishing line overboard and went to sleep. A fish swallowed the bait and began tugging at the line, which Wimberly had tied to his arm. Awakening, Wimberly upset the boat and was thrown into the water. The line had become wrapped about his arms so that he could not swim and he drowned, while his companion swam to shore.

Would Void Pact And Regain Property Right

In a suit on file today in the superior court here, Mrs. Lilly Tournat makes sensational charges against her husband, George Tournat, wealthy and elderly Garden Grove fruit grower, now asserted to be out of the state.

Mrs. Tournat seeks to have set aside an agreement to relinquish her rights in her husband's property, estimated to be worth between $60,000 and $100,000. The agreement stipulated that in return for such relinquishment, Mrs. Tournat was to receive $75 per month, it was claimed.

In her complaint, which was filed through Attorneys A. P. Nelson and C. N. Mozley, Mrs. Tournat alleged that under coercion, she believed it would prevent her husband from starting divorce proceedings.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG ANN SMELTZER, July 20.—Wintersburg is to have a new subdivision, Chris Nelson has this week purchased the twenty acres of the Stockton ranch, located on the corner of the Wintersburg road and Huntington Beach boulevard, and just across the road from his store and filling station. C. C. Bonebrake, city engineer of Orange, began surveying the property Wednesday preparatory to dividing into township lots. Streets will at once be put through in the subdivision.

This is the fourth division for this corner; the northwest corner being another tract opened up by Nelson two years ago, the southeast, the Blaylock tract.

Oscar Morgan was the surprise honoree on Saturday evening when a party was given at his home, honoring the occasion of his birthday anniversary. Those present beside the members of his family, were: George Curtis, Earl Weise, Charles Eley, Aubrey Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Elbertson and Richard Elbertson. A birthday cake decorated with seven candles, was a gift from Mrs. Eley and this, together with ice cream composed tempting refreshments which were served at prettily appointed tables during the social evening. A wealth of lovely flowers decorated the home that evening and a pretty arrangement of flowers also added to the beauty of the refreshment tables.

Mrs. George Morgan is looking for the arrival of her parents and sister from Houston, Tex., the latter part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Morgan and family of this place, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Don Parmlee of La Habra, motored to Huntington Beach Sunday as guests of Mrs. Morgan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Moore.

B. J. Morgan will finish his bay-balling season this week with the exception of some straw which may be baled later.

The building contractors who have the Oceanview school addition under way are now on the auditorium, the main frame work of the class room addition being fairly well under way. The building operations began June 11 and are to be completed within ninety days, according to contract.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lewis and nephew, Clarence Hinkle, of Smeltzer, in company with another nephew of Lewis, Fred Pope, wife and baby of Talbert, left Wednesday morning for a ten days vacation outing at Big Bear. The party will occupy the mountain cabin of Lewis' father, J. T. Lewis, of Santa Ana, while in the mountains.

Mrs. Otis Taylor visited Saturday in Santa Ana with a friend, Mrs. G. W. Griffith.

Mr. Weise and son, Earl, were among local people who attended the auto races Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan, grandmother, Mrs. Moore, and aunt, Mrs. Dora Moore, of Huntington Beach, spent the evening as visitors at the Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Farrar attended services at the Presbyterian church at Westminster last Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodington motored to San Fernando Sunday to visit a cousin, S. J. Clemens, and family. In the afternoon all went to Los Angeles and saw Harold Lloyd in "Safety Last."

From Curtis and Virgil Curtis, nephews of Mrs. Chris Nelson, were here from Ontario Tuesday as guests at the Nelson home.

Carpenters have completed the work of repairing the church roof at Wintersburg and the building is now ready for its exterior coat of paint.

Miss Ethel Gothard, who was operated upon last Friday at the Community hospital in Santa Ana, is recovering nicely, the reports being brought back by members of her family from their daily visit to her being most satisfactory.

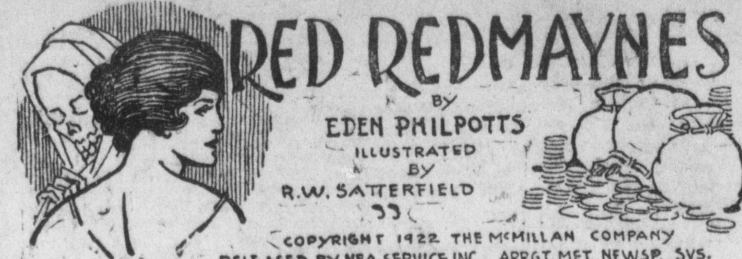

Mrs. Sim Ten Eyck and the children in company with friends, left Tuesday evening for Orange county park to camp until Sunday.

Aubrey Herndon of Whittier, is spending the week with his cousin, Oscar Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Fox, daughter, Bonnelly, and Mrs. Fox's father, C. M. Hoff, drove to her home Carita Deardoff, who has spent the past month here. Bonnelly Fox remained to spend a week with Carita.

Mrs. Georgia C. Foote came Tuesday from Burbank to the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Taylor, to be with her little granddaughter, Mildred Taylor, on her first birthday anniversary, which was Wednesday of this week. A family dinner party honored the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. George Applebury and daughter Campbell motored to Los Angeles Saturday, remaining over the week-end and upon their return were accompanied home by Mrs. Campbell, who had spent the week visiting in the city.

"We'll turn now," announced Peter half an hour afterward. "You're a smart lad and you've given me a bright thought or two. We must secure Mr. Redmaynes."

The Last of the Redmaynes
FOR the night immediately following Doria's experience at the old shrine, Albert Redmayne and his friend, Virgilio Poggi, had accepted Mark Brendon's invitation to dine at the Hotel Victoria, where he still stayed.

In order that he might enjoy private conversation with Brendon, and, at the same time, keep a close watch upon Albert, Ganns had proposed the dinner party at the hotel and directed Brendon to issue the invitation as soon as Redmayne returned home.

Wholly unsuspecting, Signor Poggi and Albert appeared in the glory of soft white shirt fronts and rather rusty evening black. A special meal was prepared for their pleasure and the four partook of it in a private chamber at the hotel. Then they adjourned to the smoking-room, and anon, when Poggi and his companion were deep in their all-sufficing subject, Peter, a few yards distant with Mark beside him, related the incident of Giuseppe's ghost.

"You did the trick to a miracle," he said. "You're a born actor, my son, and you came and went and got away with it just as well as mortal man could wish, and far better than I hoped. Well, Doria was fine. We stung him all right, and when he saw and thought he recognized the real Robert Redmayne, it got him in the solar plexus—I'm doggone sure of that. For just a moment he slipped, but how could he help it? You see, he was in a dilemma. If he'd been straight, he'd have gone for you; but he wasn't straight. He knew well enough that his Robert Redmayne—the forgery—wasn't on the warpath to-night; and when I said I saw nothing, he pulled himself together and swore he hadn't either. And the next second he realized what he had done! But too late. I had my snuff, and my money was in my pocket after that. I can tell you!"

Peter then indicated his purpose. "He'll not guess we're moving quite so quickly and, by so doing, we anticipate his stroke. That, at least, is what I mean to attempt with your help, if possible. Tonight and tomorrow morning I keep beside Albert; then you must do so; because, after lunch, I have a meeting with the local police down the lake at Como. The warrant will be waiting for me and I shall return after dark in one of the little black boats of the doanieri. We shall come up with lights out and land at the villa."

"Your part will be to keep Albert in sight and watch the others." "An hour later the detectives saw Signor Poggi to his boat and then walked home with Mr. Redmayne. Peter had provided concealed about his person and presently he explained to his friend that things were now come to a climax.

At the villa Brendon left them and Jenny welcomed her uncle. The girl begged Mark to come in for a while before lunch. I have a meeting with the local police down the lake at Como. The warrant will be waiting for me and I shall return after dark in one of the little black boats of the doanieri. We shall come up with lights out and land at the villa."

Mark presented himself early on the following day. And it was Jenny who first saw him. Then Peter Ganns joined them.

"How is uncle?" asked Mr. Redmayne's niece, and Albert's friend declared the old book lover found his old associates.

Ganns then announced his intention of going later to the town of Como; and he invited Doria and Brendon to accompany him; but Mark, already familiar with the part he had to play, declined, while Giuseppe also declared himself unable to take the trip.

"I must make ready to return to Turin," he said. The world does not stand still while Signor Pietro is catching his luncheon. I have a business, and there is nothing to keep me here any longer."

After luncheon Mr. Ganns set off—in a white waistcoat and other adornments; Giuseppe also left the villa, promising to return in a few hours; and Brendon joined Albert in his sleeping apartment.

Redmayne was dressed and lying on a couch beside the window. "This substitution of a limitation of ill health are most painful to me," he declared. "I am exceedingly well today and all the better for our delightful dinner of last night. For nobody less than dear Peter would I ever sink to pretend anything; it is contrary to my nature and disposition so to do."

Doria returned for a while during the afternoon. He drank wine, ate fruit and addressed most of his conversation to Brendon, who spoke with him in the dining room for a while.

FREIGHT ROAD ENDORSED BY HARBOR MEN

NEWPORT BEACH, July 20.—An Orange county highway, extending from Anaheim to Newport Harbor, tapping all the towns en route, to care for increased travel demands, was urged in a resolution passed last night at a meeting of the Orange County Harbor board of directors.

Write Commissioners.
The resolution was passed in the form of an address to the county commissioners, and will be presented to various chambers of commerce for their approval, Harry Welch, secretary, said.

The proposed road would be of heavy concrete, built to sustain the heaviest of traffic demands that harbor commerce would make upon it, it was said.

The estimated cost of the project, if it be put through, would be approximately $1,000,000.

Tap Many Towns.
Starting at Anaheim, the road would reach Newport Harbor via Santa Ana and Garden Grove, tapping Pomona, Ontario, Brea, Carbon Canyon, and intermediate territory.

It was the idea of the board of directors to provide suitable permanent arteries for the transportation of products received at the harbor, and to facilitate the bringing to the harbor of products for shipment.

Following the approval of this resolution by chambers in the Orange county harbor district, it is understood that the resolution will be presented to the county commissioners at an early date.

BALBOA PENINSULA IS POPULAR TRACT

BALBOA, July 20.—With the completion of connecting roads through the town of Balboa and its easy accessibility from all points in the Southland, the Balboa Peninsula is becoming increasingly popular with mid-week family beach parties, according to carefully compiled figures just tabulated.

Safety is Attraction
These records were made by the Blankenhorn Realty company, which recently acquired the local peninsula and opened it to the public as an exclusive, distinctive seaside community. They proved that those seeking beach outings, and particularly women with young children in their care, were impressed with the safety afforded by the peninsula's frontage on Balboa bay, together with the fact that the older children and the "grown-ups" themselves could enjoy open water sports at the same time in the blue waters of the Pacific.

With the opening of the peninsula, the town of Balboa, long a favored resort with those who appreciate its many charms, has achieved added popularity, and is expected to develop in a remarkable degree. There are already more than 1500 seaside homes in Balboa and the present building surge is expected to greatly increase this number during the next year. Municipal improvements are everywhere in evidence or being planned, and this famed yachting and recreation center has become one of the most popular resorts on the south coast.

Developments of the peninsula, which is distinctive from the town of Balboa, promises to make it the most exclusive sea and bay community in the West. The natural advantages enjoyed by the tract have been utilized by the Blankenhorn company to a marked degree, and as rapidly as they can be carried out, plans for the future of the community will be realized.

Many Sales Reported
Sales on the peninsula have been unusually large, and it is expected that many homes will be completed and occupied even before the end of the present summer. The Blankenhorn company's office at the tract, designed by the Marston-Van Pelt firm of architects, and expressive of the Old English type of homes, is being greatly admired by visitors, and future residents are more than willing to conform to its general construction features in the erection of their own home buildings.

INSANITY IN STATE HELD ON DECREASE

SACRAMENTO, July 20.—For the first time within the knowledge of the state board of control, the insane population of six state hospitals showed a decrease within a twelve month period. During the fiscal year ending June 30, the insane population of the hospitals decreased fifty-three, according to George G. Radcliff, chairman of the board.

Radcliff said the decrease was due almost entirely to the action of the federal government in removing insane soldiers from the state hospitals to a government hospital at Palo Alto. The population figures for the hospitals follow:

Masonic Club to Be Organized At Newport Tonight

NEWPORT BEACH, July 20.—A Masonic club will be the subject of discussion at an organization meeting to be held tonight at the city hall at Newport Beach. Prominent Masons from Orange county will attend.

For some time, a Masonic club at the beach town has been talked about among the many Masons residing there.

At tonight's meeting, it is hoped to work out some definite plan, whereby the establishment of such can be accomplished.

JUNIOR RACES SATURDAY AT YACHT CLUB

NEWPORT BEACH, July 20.—Saturday will be a gala day at the Newport Harbor Yacht club when the junior races, which are open to any type boat under fifteen feet manned by boys not over 15 years of age, and the race for Marion type boats, will be held.

Six Craft Entered
Six boats are entered in the junior races for the Mrs. Abbie Edwards cup, and four entries will be made for the Marion type boats, trying for the club cup.

In the junior races, much promise is held for a snappy event, full of thrills and real running. Dick Edwards has entered "The Dickens," in the race. Harold Staley, with "Stacom," as his "mount," will give the others a good run, it is said.

"Pickaninny," piloted by Melvin Beaty, sounds like a "dark" horse. (Do they call boats, "horses" in this sense?)

Tom Webster of Los Angeles, has entered "Little Pat," a trim little craft of speedy lines.

Bill McRadden of Los Angeles will race his namesake, "Bill." "The Dud," entered by Wesley Vesel of Los Angeles may, it is said, act like most duds, and do some unexpected things.

To Award Cup
The Mrs. Abbie Edwards cup is awarded at the close of the season to the junior racer having the most points to his credit.

Winners in each event is given a point flag, blue for first place, red for second, and white for third. To the one totaling the highest number of points at the end of the year, the cup is awarded.

These interesting races for juniors are being held every Saturday at the Newport club, according to "Captain" Cecil K. Sherman, member of the racing committee.

In the "Marion" type race, Don Davidson of Los Angeles, will run the "Don D."

Worcester Jr. of Los Angeles, is in the going with "Polly D."

Paul Palmer has the "Racing," entered in the go, while George Coleman will urge "Saucy Lass" to her limits.

The junior and Marion races this Saturday come as an opportune gift to what might otherwise have been a rather dull week-end at the club.

All the larger boats are at Santa Barbara at the regatta, and according to Mr. Sherman, will not be back until Sunday.

"These junior races are real things," vouched Mr. Sherman enthusiastically. "They are exciting, well done and exceedingly worth while."

MEMBERSHIP IN CLUB WORTH $250

NEWPORT BEACH, July 20.—Values in the Newport Harbor Yacht club memberships have increased to about $250 each, it was learned today from William M. Burnham, ex-commodore of the club.

An assessment of $60 was recently made against each membership for the purpose of raising funds to clear off all debts against the club.

With an appropriate total of 300 members, the going value of the club is about $75,000.

"This figure is very conservative," Mr. Burnham said. "If we were to replace the club building and landing, the land upon which it stands, and the prestige, I doubt if it could be done for double that figure."

The Newport Harbor Yacht club is one of the largest in California, and as such, enjoys the enviable reputation of a club with high standing.

Among the yachts, motor boats, sail boats and other sea-going craft registered with the port office many of this better class, the best known boats are property of members of the Newport club.

Its clubhouse is a summer rendezvous for boatmen from the entire county, as well as many prominent people from Los Angeles and surrounding territory.

"We consider it a very good standing to have each of the three hundred memberships represent an approximate $250 equity in the club," Mr. Burnham said.

14,000,000 FARMERS REACHED
WASHINGTON, July 20.—During the year 1922, 14,000,000 farmers attended agricultural extension meetings in the United States and more than 470,000 farmers attended agricultural extension schools and short courses conducted by government and state agricultural college agents.

CONGESTION AT NEWPORT WILL BE RELIEVED

NEWPORT BEACH, July 20.—Traffic congestion, caused by the disruption of paying along Central avenue, will be a thing of the past within a short while, according to City Marshal J. A. Porter.

Must Cross Tracks Often
At the present time, it is necessary for automobiles coming into and leaving the city to cross the Pacific Electric tracks several times, driving at some time on the side of the street.

Toward the Balboa end of Central avenue there are many automobiles parked at all times. With the narrow street, and the parked automobiles, it is sometimes a matter of question whether or not an auto should proceed.

According to the marshal, as soon as the paving strip in front of the power sub-station is completed, these two sides of Central avenue will be made one-way thoroughfares, keeping the auto traffic in a continual stream.

Pour Concrete
The concrete is being poured on this last stretch of the road, and will be open possibly within two weeks.

No accidents with the exception of a few scratched fenders have been reported, but the necessary slowing down of traffic has caused considerable delay and trouble, it is said.

"When these two sides of Central avenue are open, we plan to have them one way streets so that there will be no congestion of any sort," the marshal stated.

U. S. Postal Receipts Show Immense Gains

WASHINGTON, July 20.—During the fiscal year just ended, the post office department enjoyed the largest increase in postal receipts ever recorded for a single year. The percentage of gain for the 50 designated cities for the entire year was 12.16 per cent over the previous year. It is estimated the entire postal revenue for the fiscal year 1923 will reach $533,000,000, as compared with $484,830,000 for the year which ended June 30, 1922.

TO DELIVER BONDS.
NEWPORT BEACH, July 20.—A quantity of improvement bonds of this city will be delivered in Los Angeles today by Lew Wallace, it was learned yesterday. Mr. Wallace is in Los Angeles attending to the matter.

To Note Progress Newport Yacht In Honolulu Contest

NEWPORT BEACH, July 20.—With the return to their home port of the yachts and yachtsmen who have been attending the annual regatta at Santa Barbara, this harbor will take on a more lively atmosphere over the week-end, it is expected.

Newport Beach people, and especially members of the Newport Harbor Yacht club, will watch with interest the reports on the race to Honolulu, as Admiral Soiland's "Viking IV" is one of the racing boats. When word is flashed from Diamond Head of the arrival of the boats many here think that the "Viking IV" will be among the leaders. The crack boats of the Pacific have been entered and the dash is looked upon as the greatest sporting event in water sports circles in years.

The last race was held in 1912 when the "Lurline" made the trip in twelve days.

"NEWPORT APPLES" TO GO ON MARKET

NEWPORT BEACH, July 20.—"Newport Brand" apples, packed in boxes labeled with a new label advertising the Orange county harbor, will be on the markets of the United States this year.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, an appropriation was voted to have a cut made of suitable design, following the offer of one of the members of that association.

At least 10,000 boxes of standard pack apples will be shipped by the Costa Mesa Apple Growers' association this year, it was stated. Mr. Dodge appeared before the directors with an offer to rename the brand "Newport," or some suitable name, and use a cut advertising the harbor.

Harry Welch, secretary of the harbor chamber of commerce, was instructed to investigate a design for a cut.

"This will be a form of perpetual advertising," one of the directors commented. "In this way, we will reach places and people that we could not possibly get to in any other way."

EVENING SALUTATION

Every man has something to do which he neglects, every man has his faults to conquer which he delays to combat.

—Johnson.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

It would seem to be both a duty and a privilege for every club, society, association, organization—yes, and every individual—to support the automobile Club of Southern California, in its campaign to eliminate grade crossings.

Of course, the process of elimination will naturally be slow and difficult, but we should keep everlastingly at it, and in the meantime we should set ourselves up solidly as a stone wall against further extension of grade crossings. Wherever there is any new railroad or highway constructed it should be understood as a foregone conclusion that grade crossings are barred.

Those interests which might, and undoubtedly to some extent will oppose this program will probably argue that there is no danger in grade crossings if those who use them will "STOP, LOOK, LISTEN." Which is technically and theoretically true. But human nature is such that people will not "STOP, LOOK, LISTEN." It is not a theory that confronts us but a condition—a fact.

Just observe your own attitude and habit in this matter. Let us assume that you are a man of more than average intelligence, naturally careful and conservative. As a rule you do stop, or at least slow down to almost a stop, and look up and down the track to see that it is clear before you cross a railroad. But if you will observe yourself carefully and continuously, you will find that many, many times you drive on to the track with your mind engaged on something else, without ever having given a thought to the deadly chance you are taking. We believe that this is true of nine out of ten careful, conservative, intelligent men and women who drive automobiles. But the worst of it is that a vast majority of the people who drive automobiles are not naturally careful, so that we have a vast preponderance of careless or at least thoughtless driving, with the consequent appalling number of killings.

There is no doubt that ninety-nine per cent of the people will agree that there should be no more grade crossings permitted and that those we have should be changed to viaducts as rapidly as possible. But unless we positively and aggressively undertake to enforce such a policy it will not be enforced. Passive agreement that it should be enforced will get us nowhere.

OUTLOOK IS IMPROVING

President Harding takes a decidedly optimistic view of the business situation. Naturally he would. It is politically wise for him to put the best face on things. But others who have no political axe to grind agree with the President that there has been an improvement in the fundamental factors that make for better business.

For example, the President points out that four years ago there were some millions of men out of work. Today jobs are hunting men and employers of labor are urging the necessity of admitting more laborers to the country in order to maintain the supply. The farmer, of course, has legitimate cause to complain that he is not sharing in this prosperity as he should be. Yet the situation is decidedly better for him also. There was never a greater disposition to give serious attention to the problem of the agricultural producer than there is today. It is not easy to find the remedy, but whatever the remedy is it will be easier to apply it with the great consuming public at work at fairly good wages. With the factor of under-consumption removed it will be easier to improve farm prices than it would be if we were confronted by a great horde of workers without jobs and unable to buy their usual supply of foodstuffs.

A few days ago, on returning to Santa Ana from a trip that took him through several Rocky Mountain states, G. J. Daley, of the Holly Sugar company, declared that conditions for the farmer had been better considerably in the past three months. Others returning from trips to various parts of the country bring similar reports. Unquestionably conditions are improving.

IN BATHING, USE YOUR HEAD

In behalf of safety, we urge that all bathers at all beaches use their heads, as well as their legs and arms.

The most dangerous factor in case of an emergency in the surf is the loss of self control. Out of sheer fright, most bathers wear themselves out. Commenting upon this phase of the tide-rip menace, the Redlands Facts says:

"The strong undertow at Newport Beach dragged a girl to death Saturday. Unfortunately, the days of ocean bathing each year bring a list of such accidents. The power of the waves is irresistible at times. The advice given by an expert recently, in The Facts, to swimmers to allow themselves to go with such an undertow or rip tide, until the rip has exhausted itself, merely giving out enough energy to keep afloat, reserving all one's strength for the swim back to land when the bather finds himself released from the grasp of the swirling waters, should be borne in mind by local swimmers. The life is generally lost through exhaustion following upon a battle with the waves, at a time when such an effort is futile."

It is not always a tide-rip that gets bathers into trouble. Too often it is nothing but a venturesome spirit. One who cannot swim or who at best is a poor swimmer unthinkingly goes out too far; along comes a disconcerting wave, and the bather is in trouble. There are cases in which an excited bather has drowned in water that was not up to his neck.

PROGRESS IN ARMS

The Springfield army rifle will be replaced by the Garand semi-automatic, experts predict, following tests. The Garand turns every doughboy into a machine-gunner. It is a shoulder rifle and fires 60 shots a minute. It weighs about the same as the Springfield. The Garand would change battle tactics radically, for it would triple our army's volume of fire. You turn to another page and read news about world courts and other attempts toward world peace.

opposed to which are things like the Garand rifle. While the forces of peace combat for control, the forces of war are active in the opposite direction. And progress in machinery for war will continue until the world calls a definite determined "Halt."

Like Banquo's Ghost

San Bernardino Sun.

Let nobody suppose that we are through with the wet and dry question in California because the Wright law was approved by a majority of the voters last November. That issue has more lives than a cat, and the wets have learned from the dries to keep everlastingly at it.

It is not likely that any legislature will interfere with the Wright law, for in practically the same form it was passed by two succeeding sessions, the first time held up successfully by the referendum, but the last time a majority of the California voters gave it their sanction. But there is a way to attack it, and a San Francisco paper tells us:

Repeal of the Wright Act by initiative petition measures at the next general election is the plan of the wets.

Assemblyman Hornblower announced yesterday that he had completed the preparation of the repealer measure, which will be submitted to the voters and that petitions will be ready for circulation within the next ten days.

Those sponsoring the repealer declare that a campaign for signatures will be carried on in all parts of the State, although the main drive of the "wets" will be made in San Francisco.

Dr. Briggs, head of the California Anti-Saloon League, says "It's a silly move," basing his opinion on the fact that the law was approved by a majority of 34,000, and that the dry majority made a gain of 98,000, from 1920 to 1922. By which he refers to the fact that the law lost by 64,000 two years before, but carried last year by 34,000.

Without much doubt the larger part of the migration into California is dry. It comes in most part from the Middle West, and from rural districts where prohibition has its strongest hold. That would indicate that the dry sentiment in the State is growing, while the wets have also lost at another angle. Nobody has forgotten the "Save Our Vineyards" slogan of many campaigns, yet the vineyardists have never made such money as they have enjoyed from the sale of grapes since the Eighteenth Amendment became a force in the law. True, perhaps a majority—not all—of the vineyardists sympathize with the opposition to prohibition as a policy. But they know from experience that it does them no financial harm, and they will therefore be less interested in a campaign to upset it.

What effect the repeal of a similar statute in New York may have can only be guessed, but our notion is that Assemblyman Hornblower, who is a San Francisco Legislator, is riding to a fall if he heads a movement for another vote in California. The advanced position taken by President Harding with reference to prohibition enforcement is likely to offset any influence that might be exerted by the New York reversal.

Charged to the Trucks

San Bernardino Sun.

Our neighbors over in Riverside County estimate that a sum not less than $450,000 will be required to save the county's bond built highway from complete destruction. Riverside County's bond issue originally was for $1,125,000, and the Chambers of Commerce of the county have the question up for consideration, seeking some acceptable recommendation to the Board of Supervisors which will provide a fund to begin repairs and replacements that will save the county's highway system. The Enterprise reports:

Trucks and other heavy traffic has resulted in breaking down the four inch concrete slabs. They must be thickened and in some places should be widened. To protect the investment in these roads, there should be something done immediately. A short time bond issue, say of 10 years, as suggested in the county chamber of commerce referendum, for about half of the proposed $450,000 and allowing for the balance to be met out of direct tax and automobile and gas money, seems the best compromise to meet the situation with.

The total bonding capacity of the county at present is less than $800,000. It certainly would not be good business to use much more than half of it up at this time. How much the counties will receive as their share of the new gasoline and automobile tax has not yet been estimated. It has been estimated for the State as a whole, but we have seen no figures allocating the one-half of the fund which comes back to the counties. It ought to be a very considerable sum, and for a county like Riverside or San Bernardino, it should furnish no small part of what is required for highway upkeep.

San Bernardino County has some highways that are wearing badly under the traffic. Either because of better construction originally or better care of lighter traffic, the Foothill Boulevard—State highway—seems to be standing up better than others which were laid later. Traffic reports indicate that heavy trucks travel more on the Valley Boulevard, which shows the effect except in some spots that were heavily surfaced. If such a treatment could be given all of the county's pavements, it doubtless would materially prolong their lives.

One of two policies is inevitable. Either the speed and load of trucks must be cut down—which policy has never got far at Sacramento, due to the enthusiastic lobby maintained by the trucking interests, or the pavements must be protected with heavier surfacing and prompt repairs.

Alaska Entralls Harding

Long Beach Press.

President Harding has been completely captivated with Alaska. Its scenery has thrilled him and made him term it "America's wonderland." His trip and his enthusiastic praise of scenic marvels there will interest the world in that region as a place for sight-seeing. As the railroad facilities there become better developed, and as ocean transportation becomes popularized, sightseeing tours to Alaska will be more common and the number of people going there will increase.

The tremendous resources of Alaska, too, are a revelation to President Harding and members of his party. Mere official reports and mere statistical figures do not convey full comprehension of the vastness of natural riches in that favored region.

The President's visit should be instrumental in bringing about a greater development up there, under favorable auspices. He is becoming conversant, firsthand, with conditions and needs. His recommendations to Congress should bear fruit in legislation for the relief of unsatisfactory conditions and for the encouragement of wholesome development there, with the public domain adequately protected against greed.

This Isn't Helping Matters

Schwab's Rules for Success

Charles M. Schwab in The Business Woman

If I were asked to name the most important things that lead to a successful life, I should say first of all was integrity—unimpeachable integrity. No one can ever do anything of great value in life, and have the confidence and approval of his fellow men, or be successful in his undertakings with other business people, if he does not have the reputation of being a person of honor and integrity. This is the very foundation of a successful life.

Another important thing is loyalty. Be loyal to the people with whom you associate at the start. Make your employer feel that you are sincere with him that you are going to promote his interests; that you are going to stand for the things he represents, and that will reap you a richer reward. Loyalty above all!

A person, to carry on a successful business, must have imagination. He must see things in a vision, a dream of the whole thing. You can cultivate that faculty only by an application of the finer things of life.

Be friends with everybody. When you have friends, you know there is somebody who will stand by you. Lead a life that will make you kindly and friendly to everyone about you, and you will be surprised at what a happy life you will lead.

These things secure opportunity. That secured, there comes the need of good judgment, which is one of the prime requisites for enduring success.

GLADNESS

The world has brought not anything
To make me glad today!
The swallow has a broken wing,
And after all my journeying
There was no water in the spring—
My friend has said me nay,
But yet somehow I needs must sing
As on a luckier day.

Dusk falls as gray as any tear,
There is no hope in sight,
But something in me seems so fair,
That like a star I needs must wear
A safety made of shining air Between me and the night.
Such inner weavings do I wear
All fashioned of delight.

I need not for these robes of mine
The loveliness of earth,
But happenings remote and fine
Like threads of dreams will blow and shine
In gossamer and crystalline,
And I was glad from birth.
So even while my eyes repine,
My heart is clothed in mirth.

Hydrogen Sulphide

That hydrogen sulphide, a gas often present in mines and tunnels and in various industrial plants, is an extremely poisonous gas, although not heretofore fully recognized as such, is disclosed by an investigation of the Department of the Interior, just completed at the Pittsburgh experiment station of the Bureau of Mines. The investigation established the fact that acute poisoning of men can be produced by low concentrations of this gas, and may result in respiratory paralysis followed by heart failure and death.

Hydrogen sulphide is sometimes present in mines, railroad tunnels, sewers and marshes; and is found in various stages of the manufacture of sulphuric acid, and in the distillation of petroleum, particularly those oils known as high-sulphur crudes; also about some gas wells, gas plants, and smelters.

Hydrogen sulphide is a colorless gas, which, in low concentrations, has the odor of rotten eggs, and in mines has been termed stink damp. It burns with a bluish flame forming sulphur dioxide and water. In seven parts of air a mixture is formed, which when ignited, explodes with violence. Wherever hydrogen sulphide exists, the possibility of poisoning is present. Its toxicity is comparable to that of hydrocyanic acid gas (prussic acid).

A study of the degrees of asphyxia caused by inhalation of the gas shows that when complete it results in almost immediate unconsciousness and frequently death follows before rescue can be accomplished or even attempted. In cases where rescue can be accomplished the victim usually recovers almost immediately. Headache and nausea may exist for a period of several hours afterwards. In some cases men have been unconscious, but were able to return to work feeling practically normal in the course of two or three hours—or even less time. In subacute cases, symptoms of irritation of the eyes and respiratory tract are found. The degree of poisoning varies with the concentration of the gas present and the length of exposure.

In the experimental studies of the toxicity of hydrogen sulphide gas, made by the Interior Department at the Pittsburgh experiment station of the Bureau of Mines, a 100-cubic foot gas chamber was used for making exposure of men and various animals. Canaries, white rats, guinea pigs, dogs, and a goat were used as subjects. A few experiments were carried out on men, using low percentages of hydrogen sulphide.

The conclusions of the Bureau of Mines investigators are that hydrogen sulphide is an industrial poison, the toxicity of which has not been fully realized. Cases of poisoning have occurred in relatively large numbers. Constant vigilance is required in order to prevent accidents.

Poisoning by hydrogen sulphide is of two types, acute and subacute, causing asphyxiation and irritation in the form of conjunctivitis, bronchitis, pharyngitis and depression of the central nervous system, respectively. Death from asphyxia is caused by paralysis of the respiratory center, while death from subacute poisoning is associated with edema of the lungs. The exact low limit of hydrogen-sulphide concentration at which it ceases to act as a poison has not as yet been determined, but is evidently below 0.005 per cent.

Hydrogen sulphide in low concentrations produces symptoms of headache, sleeplessness, dizziness, dizziness and weariness. Pain in the eyes, followed by conjunctivitis, is fairly constant; while bronchitis and pains in the chest are frequent. Further poisoning produces depression, stupor, unconsciousness and death. Spasms are present, and death occurs following paralysis of the respiratory center. Treatment of acute cases consists in immediate removal from the toxic atmosphere, and the immediate administration of artificial respiration. The breathing of oxygen is advisable when possible. The treatment of subacute cases should be symptomatic. All cases should be under the care of a physician. Where hydrogen sulphide gas may exist, good ventilation results in a decrease in the number of accidents. The canister types of mask, hose mask, and oxygen-breathing apparatus are of value in protecting the men in case of emergency. The results of these investigations are given in Serial 2491, by R. R. Sayers, C. W. Mitchell and W. P. Yant, which may be obtained from the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C.

Advice

By Berton Braley

I've tried to tell you straight and true
Exactly what is wrong with you.
I've done my best to make you see
The faults of yours which trouble me.

I've sought to guide you as a friend
And show you how you might amend
Your way of life, and, as it were,
Become a Noble Character!

But are you properly endued
With humbleness and gratitude.
For all the good advice you got?
Well, speaking frankly, you are not.

At various times, as I recall,
You've counseled me to "hire a hall."
And even told me I could go
To hotter spots than Borneo.

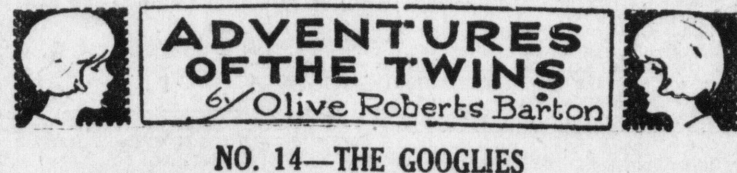

Is such an attitude quite kind
To one who has your good in mind?
What's that? YOU have a moral plan
To me of ME a Better Man?

Confound your high and mighty airs,
You'd better mind your own affairs,
Where do you get that kind of stuff?
Be on your way—enough's enough!

Has More Soldiers

Europe has 607,786 more fighting men under arms this year than in 1913, the year before the World War, despite a reduction of 696,135 men in the standing armies of Germany, Hungary and Bulgaria. The standing armies of Europe in 1913 totaled 3,747,179 men. Now the number is 4,354,965. Standing armies of the three great European powers, Great Britain, France and Italy, today number 1,039,047 men, and those of the remaining states of Europe 3,255,918. The increase is in the small countries which have adopted the policy of maintaining large bodies of armed men. Consequently the burden of taxation falls more heavily upon the people of these new states since they have obtained their freedom, than it did when they were under the rule of the czar, the kaiser, and the Austrian emperor.

NO. 14—THE GOOGLIES

The next place in Rainbow Land where the Twins went with Mister Sky Bow was the place where the Gooxies lived.

The Gooxies were not beautiful. They were far from it. Indeed they were ugly, for their eyes stuck out like the lamps on an automobile and it gave them the appearance of inquisitive beetles standing on their hind legs.

"How do you do?" said a Googly, stepping up and tipping his hat. "We've been expecting you for five hours and forty minutes and sixteen seconds. You are late."

"Why!" exclaimed Nancy. "How did you know we were coming?"

"Never ask a Googly how he knows anything," said the Googly importantly. "These eyes of ours were not made for nothing. Some people have necks to stretch. Others have ears that stretch (when there are secrets to be heard), but we have eyes that stretch. Look!"

And before the Twins could so much as wink, hadn't the Googly shot his great eyes up like skyrocket and brought them down again! "A ha! I knew it!" he cried. "The Emperor of China is having bird's nests for lunch. I can see around the world with these eyes of mine. Anything you wish to know?"

"Oh, yes, sir!" cried Nick. "Please tell me what Santa Claus is doing. And Mrs. Santa Claus and everybody."

"Hm! Just wait!" said the Googly shooting up his eyes again. "Santa Claus is painting a word on an express wagon. It says 'Nick' And Mrs. Claus is making a paper on it. It says 'Nancy'." Then the Googly brought his eyes down again.

"Oh, my!" sighed Nancy happily. "I wish I were a Googly. You'd never have to study at all. You'd know everything."
